NEW QUESTION # 91

To capitalize a research and development asset, it must

- A. be used for a federal research project.
- B. be approved by the agency head.
- C. have acquisition value of at least $100,000.
- D. have alternative future use.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Research and development (R&D) costs are generally expensed when incurred. However, capitalization may occur only if the asset has an "alternative future use." This means it can be used in other projects or for other purposes beyond the specific R&D effort. This principle aligns with both federal and private-sector accounting under FASAB and FASB standards.

When a new combined government replaces the separate governments of a city and a county, this is an example of

- A. a government merger.
- B. a transfer of operations.
- C. intergovernmental operations.
- D. a government acquisition.

Answer: A

Explanation:

A government merger occurs when two or more legally separate governments are combined to form a new government, and the original governments cease to exist. This includes combinations like a city and county merging to form a unified government, with combined assets, liabilities, and operations.

There is no acquiring government - rather, the governments voluntarily combine into a new legal entity.

- B. a warrant
- C. an apportionment
- D. an encumbrance

- A. a commitment authority.
- B. an expenditure authority.
- C. a budget authority.
- D. a transfer authority.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Comprehensive Detailed Explanation:

Budget authority is the legal authorization provided by Congress that allows federal agencies to enter into obligations that will result in outlays, either immediately or in the future. It is a prerequisite for agencies to spend federal funds.

Commitment authority is not an official federal term; transfer authority allows movement of funds between accounts and is more restrictive; expenditure authority is an informal term and not defined in U.S. Code.

NEW QUESTION # 95

Governmental funds reported $80 million current expenditures and $2 million capital outlays. The reconciliation of the Statement of Revenues, Expenditures, and Change in Fund Balance to the Statement of Activities starts with the total net change in fund balances in the governmental fund and

- A. $2 million in capital outlays is subtracted.
- B. $80 million in current expenditures is subtracted.
- C. $2 million in capital outlays is added.
- D. $80 million in current expenditures is added.

Answer: C

Explanation:

In the reconciliation from the governmental fund financial statements to the government-wide Statement of Activities, capital outlays that were treated as expenditures in the governmental funds are added back. This is because the government-wide financial statements use full accrual accounting, where capital outlays are capitalized as assets and not expensed.

Thus, the $2 million in capital outlays would be added back to adjust net change in fund balances to arrive at the change in net position for governmental activities.
