NEW QUESTION # 65

A discrete manufacturer uses the time and attendance registration for production operations.

All employees register daily clock in and clock out times during a 40-hour, Monday through Friday workweek.

Pay periods are every two weeks. Workers are paid hourly.

The production manager will create work schedules with the following windows:

- * Mandatory work hours

- * Work hours during which employees can leave early without accruing absences

- * Work hours during which employees can work extra time

If a junior production worker works over 90 hours in a pay period, the worker will receive time and a half over 80 hours. If a senior production worker works over 90 hours in a pay period, the worker will receive double time over 80 hours.

You need to configure the system for these requirements.

Where should you configure this functionality? To answer, drag the appropriate forms to the correct requirements. Each form may be used once, more than once, or not at all. You may need to drag the split bar between panes or scroll to view content.

☐ Explanation

To configure the system for these requirements, you should use the following forms:

Configure the overtime calculations: You should use the form. This form allows you to set up and maintain information about workers, such as their personal details, employment status, and compensation¹. You can also specify the overtime rate for each worker on the Time and attendance tab². For example, you can set the overtime rate to 1.5 for junior production workers and 2 for senior production workers.

Configure the periods of time that a worker can choose whether to work: You should use the Flex groups form. This form allows you to set up and maintain flex groups, which are groups of workers who have flexible work hours³. You can also define flex profiles for each flex group, which specify the mandatory work hours, the flex time hours, and the extra time hours for each day of the week³. For example, you can create a flex profile that has mandatory work hours from 8:00 AM to 4:00 PM, flex time hours from 4:00 PM to 6:00 PM, and extra time hours from 6:00 PM to 8:00 PM.
