NEW QUESTION # 12

Which of the following can be employed as a barrier device in a segmented network?

Available Choices (select all choices that are correct)

- A. Unmanaged switch
- B. Router
- C. VPN
- D. Domain controller

Answer: B

Explanation:

A router and a VPN can be employed as barrier devices in a segmented network. A barrier device is a device that controls the flow of traffic between different network segments, based on predefined rules and policies¹. A router is a device that forwards packets between different networks, based on their IP addresses². A router can act as a barrier device by applying access control lists (ACLs) or firewall rules to filter or block unwanted or malicious traffic². A VPN is a technology that creates a secure and encrypted tunnel between different networks, such as a remote site and a corporate network³. A VPN can act as a barrier device by encrypting the traffic and authenticating the users or devices that access the network³. A VPN can also prevent unauthorized access or eavesdropping by outsiders³.

NEW QUESTION # 13

What is the purpose of ICS-CERT Alerts?

- A. To notify the owners of critical infrastructure
- B. To alert of targeted global energy sector threats
- C. To inform about hardware upgrades
- D. To advertise cybersecurity services

Answer: A

Explanation:

ICS-CERT (Industrial Control Systems Cyber Emergency Response Team) issues alerts to inform critical infrastructure owners and operators about newly discovered vulnerabilities, threats, and mitigation strategies.

"ICS-CERT Alerts provide timely information to critical infrastructure owners and operators concerning current security issues, vulnerabilities, and exploits."

- ICS-CERT Advisory Documentation (now under CISA)

Alerts may be sector-wide or vendor-specific, and are part of the U.S. Department of Homeland Security's proactive cyber defense strategy.

Clarification of Options:

Not specific to the energy sector only (D is too narrow)

Not promotional in nature (eliminates A and B)

- A. Budgeting
- B. Security incident exposing previously unknown risk.
- C. New technical controls
- D. Organizational restructuring

Answer: B,C,D

Explanation:

Available Choices (select all choices that are correct)

- A. Session layer
- B. Application layer
- C. Data link layer
- D. Presentation layer

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 16

What do packet filter firewalls examine?

Available Choices (select all choices that are correct)

- A. Only the source, destination, and ports in the header of each packet
- B. The packet structure and sequence
- C. The relationships between packets in a session
- D. Every incoming packet up to the application layer

Answer: A

Explanation:

Packet filter firewalls, as defined by ISA/IEC 62443 standards on cybersecurity, primarily examine the source, destination, and ports in the header of each packet. This type of firewall does not inspect the packet content deeply (such as its structure or sequence) or maintain awareness of the relationships between packets in a session. Instead, it operates at a more superficial level, filtering packets based solely on IP addresses and TCP/UDP ports. This approach allows packet filter firewalls to quickly process and either accept or block packets based on these predefined criteria without delving into the complexities of session management or the content of the packets up to the application layer.
