Python Institute PCED - Certified Entry-Level Data Analyst with Python Sample Questions (Q16-Q21):

NEW QUESTION # 16

A program compares two values using `==` and `is`. The variables `a = 256` and `b = 256` are defined. What is the expected result of `a is b` in most Python implementations?

- A. False
- B. Error
- C. True
- D. None

Answer: C

Explanation:

Python caches small integers for efficiency. Since 256 is typically within the cached range, both variables reference the same object in memory, making `a is b` evaluate to True.

NEW QUESTION # 17

A Python developer is testing truth values of different data types using the `bool()` function. The expression `bool([0])` is evaluated in the script. What result should be expected when this expression is printed?

- A. False
- B. Error
- C. True
- D. None

Answer: C

Explanation:

In Python, any non-empty list evaluates to True in a Boolean context. Even though the element inside the list is zero, the list itself is not empty, so the result is True.

NEW QUESTION # 18

Below are six possible summaries for your presentation:

- Summary 1: "The data revealed a moderate positive correlation between age and recycling frequency. While 72% of students reported recycling paper regularly, only 39% reported recycling plastic."
- Summary 2: "Analysis showed notable differences in recycling habits by material type, with paper being most recycled and plastic least recycled."
- Summary 3: "Older kids recycled more than younger ones. Paper was the most recycled item- plastic got forgotten a lot."
- Summary 4: "Student responses showed positive environmental habits overall, though participation varied by waste type."
- Summary 5: "A lot of students said they recycle. Some didn't answer every question, so we couldn't figure out everything."
- Summary 6: "We asked more than 300 students about recycling. Most said they recycle paper, but way fewer recycle plastic."

Which communication style is the best fit for Group A (data scientists) and Group B (12-year-olds), respectively? Select the best answer.

- A. Summary 2 for Group A, Summary 6 for Group B
- B. Summary 4 for Group A, Summary 3 for Group B
- C. Summary 6 for Group A, Summary 5 for Group B
- D. Summary 1 for Group A, Summary 3 for Group B
- E. Summary 6 for Group A, Summary 3 for Group B
- F. Summary 1 for Group A, Summary 6 for Group B

Answer: D

Explanation:

The first summary uses precise statistical language and quantitative detail appropriate for data scientists. The third summary uses simpler, more conversational language that is easier for 12-year-olds to understand.

NEW QUESTION # 19

Which of the following code snippets will output True for both printfunctions by correctly identifying the type of each variable and performing valid operations?

- A.
- B.
- C.
- D.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Adding an integer and a float produces a float result, so checking that the type of the sum is float evaluates to True. The variable holding 3.0 is a float, so the isinstance check for float also evaluates to True.

NEW QUESTION # 20

A program uses while False: followed by print statements inside the loop. The developer expects output. What will actually happen during execution?

- A. Error
- B. Prints once
- C. No execution
- D. Infinite loop

Answer: C

Explanation:

The condition False is evaluated before entering the loop. Since it is always false, the loop body is never executed, and no output is produced.
