CompTIA A+ Certification Exam: Core 1 Sample Questions (Q324-Q329):

NEW QUESTION # 324

A technician is putting RJ45 connectors on Cat 6 cables. Which of the following tools should the technician use to secure the connectors?

- A. Loopback plug
- B. Wire cutters
- C. Crimping
- D. Punchdown

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 325

A user's desktop computer slows down after a few minutes of use, and the fans alternate between silent and very loud. Which of the following is MOST likely failing, therefore causing these symptoms?

- A. CPU fan
- B. Hard drive
- C. Power supply
- D. Memory

Answer: A

Explanation:

A CPU fan is a component that cools down the CPU, which is the main processor of the computer. If the CPU fan is failing, it can cause the computer to slow down and the fans to alternate between silent and very loud.

This is because the CPU fan cannot maintain a consistent speed and airflow to keep the CPU at a safe temperature. When the CPU gets too hot, it throttles its performance to avoid overheating, which results in a slower computer. The other fans in the computer also try to compensate for the lack of cooling from the CPU fan by spinning faster and louder.

NEW QUESTION # 326

When a user touches or swipes across an external touch screen, the image flickers but no input is registered on the presentation laptop. A technician verifies that the external touch screen appears free from physical damage. Which of the following should the technician do next?

- A. Replace the laptop with a new device that is known to work.
- B. Reboot the LCD touch panel and laptop.
- C. Inspect the LCD touch panel for dead pixels or burn-in.
- D. Check the cables connecting to the laptop.
- E. Verify the correct input source is set on the laptop.

Answer: D

Explanation:

When an external touch screen exhibits flickering without registering input on a presentation laptop, the first troubleshooting step should be to check the cables connecting the touch screen to the laptop. This includes ensuring that the cables are securely connected, undamaged, and are the correct type for transmitting both video and touch input data. Faulty, loose, or incorrect cabling can lead to issues like flickering and unregistered inputs.

NEW QUESTION # 327

A laptop has been returned for a screen repair. The owner insists the screen is broken, but occasionally a faded image is able to be seen in very bright settings on the desktop. Which of the following steps should the repair technician take FIRST?

- A. Ensure the backlight is functioning as expected.
- B. Replace the graphics card.
- C. Recommend the usage of an external display instead.
- D. Replace the screen, as the customer insists.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 328

Which of the following cloud service models is most likely to provide application patching?

- A. DaaS
- B. PaaS
- C. IaaS
- D. SaaS

Answer: D

Explanation:

In the SaaS (Software as a Service) model, the service provider manages the infrastructure, platforms, and software applications, including maintenance tasks such as application patching. Users access the applications over the internet, and the provider is responsible for ensuring the software is up to date, secure, and performing optimally. This model contrasts with IaaS (Infrastructure as a Service) and PaaS (Platform as a Service), where the customer has more control and responsibility over the environment and may need to manage patching for applications they develop or install.

Notes: SaaS is designed to relieve users from the complexity of software maintenance, including patch management, as highlighted in cloud computing service model descriptions.
