- D. Rebuilding the entire site from scratch

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 96

After deploying a new OSGi configuration, users report that they can no longer access published content. What should be your first troubleshooting step?

- A. Check error logs in /system/console/slinglog for possible misconfigurations
- B. Restore the default OSGi configurations from an earlier backup
- C. Disable all replication agents and reconfigure them
- D. Restart the publish instance to refresh the configurations

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 97

When setting up an AEM instance, an OSGi configuration needs to be applied that cannot be changed at runtime. How can the DevOps Engineer achieve this requirement?

- A. The configuration must be set in the web console and will be picked up after the instance restarts.
- B. A content package containing the OSGi configuration should be embedded in the Quickstart jar.

- D. An OSGi configuration file must be present in the install folder.

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 98

A developer informs a DevOps engineer that a page they are working on renders as expected in the AEM Authoring environment but appears blank when viewed through the dispatchers.

* No errors are present in the browser console.

* Other instances of this page template render properly.

* The page renders properly when accessing with the www URL but renders blank with the non-www URL.

What is causing this issue?

- A. There is an incorrect rule in the /filter section.
- B. The domain's IP is not listed in the /allowedclients section.
- C. The 'anonymous' user does not have read permissions on the path.
- D. A matching entry is missing in the /virtualhost section.

Answer: D

Explanation:

The Dispatcher relies on the /virtualhost section of the farm configuration to route incoming HTTP requests based on the Host header. If a page renders correctly on www.domain.com but returns a blank or default response on domain.com, it strongly indicates that the bare domain (non-www) has not been added to the /virtualhost array for that specific site's farm configuration. The Dispatcher does not know how to handle the request for the missing host and drops or misroutes it.
