Salesforce Platform Developer II Sample Questions (Q13-Q18):

NEW QUESTION # 13

What is the transaction limit for the number of SOSL queries?

- A. 200 (synchronous), 100 (async)
- B. 2,000
- C. 100 (synchronous), 200 (async)
- D. 0
- E. There is no limit

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 14

A developer writes a Lightning web component that displays a dropdown list of all custom objects in the org from which a user will select. An Apex method prepares and returns data to the component.

What should the developer do to determine which objects to include in the response?

- A. Import the list of all custom objects from `@salesforce/schema`.
- B. Check the `getObjectType()` value for 'Custom' or 'Standard' on the `sObject` describe result.
- C. Use the `getCustomObjects()` method from the `Schema` class.
- D. Check the `isCustom()` value on the `sObject` describe result,

Answer: D

Explanation:

To determine which objects to include in the response, the developer should check the `isCustom()` value on the `sObject` describe result. This method returns a Boolean indicating whether the `sObject` is a custom object. References: Apex Developer Guide - Describing `sObjects`

NEW QUESTION # 15

A developer is creating a Lightning web component that displays a list of records in a lightning-datatable.

After saving a new record to the database, the list is not updating.

What should the developer change in the code above for this to happen?

- A. Add the `@track` decorator to the data variable.
- B. Create a variable to store the result and call `refreshApex()`.
- C. Call `refreshApex()` on this data.
- D. Create a new variable to store the result and annotate it with `@track`.

Answer: B

Explanation:

In Lightning Web Components (LWC), the data displayed in a component is not automatically refreshed when a new record is saved to the database. To refresh the displayed list of records in a lightning-datatable after a save operation, developers should use the `refreshApex()` function. This function is imported from the `@salesforce/apex` module and is used to refresh the cache and re-execute the Apex wire method to fetch the latest data from the server. The `@track` decorator is no longer necessary in most cases due to reactive properties being the default behavior in LWC as of Spring '20 release. Also, calling `refreshApex()` on this data directly or creating a new tracked variable will not initiate a refresh of the cached data.

NEW QUESTION # 16

Refer to the code snippet below:

As part of an Integration development effort, a developer is tasked to create an Apex method that solely relies on the use of foreign identifiers in order to relate new contact records to existing Accounts in Salesforce. The account object contains a field marked as an external ID, the API Name of this field is `Legacy_Id_c`.

What is the most efficient way to instantiate the `parentAccount` variable on line 02 to ensure the newly created contact is properly related to the Account?

- A)
- B)
- C)
- D)

- A. Option B
- B. Option D
- C. Option C
- D. Option A

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 17

A user receives the generic "An internal server error has occurred" while interacting with a custom Lightning component.

What should the developer do to ensure a more meaningful message?

- A. Add an `onerror` event handler to the tag.
- B. Use an `AuraHandledException` in a try-catch block.
- C. Use platform events to process the error.
- D. Add an error-view component to the markup.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Use `AuraHandledException` in try-catch for custom errors. It enables sending meaningful, user-friendly error messages to the Lightning component. References: Handling Errors in Lightning Components
