OCPE Pesticide Applicator Category 7A General and Household Pest Control Exam Sample Questions (Q49-Q54):

NEW QUESTION # 49

If you wear contacts, ____ when handling pesticides.

- A. Wear goggles
- B. Wear a face shield
- C. Do not wear them

Answer: C

Explanation:

Contact lenses can trap pesticide residues against the eye, increasing the risk of irritation or injury if exposure occurs. The General Pest Management: Guide for Commercial Applicators - Category 7A (Chapter 3: Pesticide Safety) advises applicators to not wear contact lenses when handling pesticides to avoid this risk. Option A (face shield) and Option B (goggles) are protective measures for the eyes but do not address the specific hazard of contact lenses trapping chemicals.

NEW QUESTION # 50

Which answer best completes the following statement?

For interior bedbug applications:

- A. Use a high-pressure system with a fan nozzle
- B. Apply to flat surfaces where prolonged human contact will occur
- C. Reapply every 7-10 days until infestation is eliminated

Answer: C

Explanation:

The TEMPRID SC label and the General Pest Management: Guide for Commercial Applicators - Category 7A (Chapter 7: Bedbugs) recommend that for interior bedbug applications, applicators should reapply every 7-10 days until the infestation is eliminated. This is because bedbugs have a life cycle where eggs hatch over time, and multiple treatments are needed to target newly emerged nymphs.

Option A (high-pressure system with a fan nozzle) is incorrect, as high-pressure systems can disperse bedbugs and are not suitable for indoor applications; low-pressure, targeted applications (e.g., crack- and-crevice) are preferred. Option B (apply to flat surfaces with prolonged human contact) is incorrect, as the TEMPRID label prohibits application to surfaces like mattresses or furniture where prolonged contact occurs, to avoid human exposure.

NEW QUESTION # 51

Which of the following would be an example of the IPM practice of cultural controls?

- A. Threshold numbers elevation
- B. Garbage elimination
- C. Caulking

Answer: B

Explanation:

Cultural controls in IPM involve modifying the environment to make it less favorable for pests.

Garbage elimination is a cultural control because it removes food sources that attract pests like roaches or flies, as noted in the General Pest Management: Guide for Commercial Applicators - Category 7A (Chapter 4: IPM). Option A (caulking) is a mechanical control, as it physically blocks pest entry.

Option B (threshold numbers elevation) refers to monitoring, not a cultural practice.

NEW QUESTION # 52

The best method of dealing with house flies is:

- A. The liberal application of insect repellent
- B. A perimeter band control area out to 10 feet
- C. Good sanitation practices

Answer: C

Explanation:

House flies are best controlled through good sanitation practices, such as removing garbage, cleaning spills, and sealing food sources, which eliminates breeding sites and attractants. The General Pest Management: Guide for Commercial Applicators - Category 7A (Chapter 7: Flies) emphasizes sanitation as the primary control method. Option A (perimeter band control) may be used for other pests but is less effective for house flies indoors. Option C (insect repellent) is not a standard method for fly control in structures.

NEW QUESTION # 53

The application records for general and household pesticide use must be kept for a minimum of:

- A. Two years
- B. Three years
- C. Five years

Answer: B

Explanation:

NJDEP regulations (N.J.A.C. 7:30-6.8) require commercial pesticide applicators to maintain application records for a minimum of three years. These records must include details like the date, location, pesticide used, amount applied, and target pest. This applies to Category 7A applications for general and household pest control. Option A (five years) is incorrect, though some states may have longer requirements. Option C (two years) is too short for New Jersey standards.
