Fortinet FCSS - LAN Edge 7.6 Architect Sample Questions (Q80-Q85):

NEW QUESTION # 80
You configure FortiAuthenticator syslog to a remote FortiAnalyzer. What additional feature becomes available with this integration?
Response:

- A. Certificate Authority Management
- B. RADIUS Dictionary Customization
- C. Local Authentication Proxy
- D. Log Analytics and Reports

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 81
What logs or tools can be used to troubleshoot wireless AP communication issues in FortiGate?
(Choose two)
Response:

- A. CAPWAP logs
- B. Application control profiles
- C. VLAN trunk statistics
- D. Event Logs > WiFi Events

Answer: A,D

NEW QUESTION # 82
A conference center wireless network provides guest access through a captive portal, allowing unregistered users to self-register and connect to the network. The IT team has been tasked with updating the existing configuration to enforce captive portal authentication over a secure HTTPS connection. Which two steps should the administrator take to implement this change? (Choose two.)

- A. Disable HTTP administrative access on the guest SSID to enforce HTTPS connection.
- B. Update the captive portal URL to use HTTPS on FortiGate and FortiAuthenticator.
- C. Create a new SSID with the HTTPS captive portal URL.
- D. Enable HTTP redirect in the user authentication settings.

Answer: B,D

Explanation:
Goal: enforce captive portal authentication over HTTPS for guests.
On FortiGate/FortiAuthenticator captive portal setups:
* HTTP redirect is used so that when a guest browses to any HTTP site, their request is redirected to the portal URL.
* The portal URL itself must be HTTPS if you want a secure login page.
FortiOS captive portal and firewall authentication guidelines recommend:
* Enabling HTTP redirect so unauthenticated HTTP traffic is transparently sent to the portal.
* Configuring the portal URL with HTTPS, often referencing a certificate on FortiGate or FortiAuthenticator.
Therefore:
* A. Enable HTTP redirect in the user authentication settings.#This ensures unauthenticated HTTP requests are redirected to the (now HTTPS) portal.
* D. Update the captive portal URL to use HTTPS on FortiGate and FortiAuthenticator.#This makes the login itself secure (TLS-protected).
Incorrect:
* B- You don't need a new SSID; the same SSID can use HTTPS portal.
* C- Disabling HTTP admin access on the SSID doesn't control the captive portal scheme; HTTPS enforcement is done by the portal configuration and redirect, not by admin-access flags.

NEW QUESTION # 83
Which command enables dynamic VLAN assignment under a FortiSwitch interface policy?

Response:

- A. set vlan-policy dynamic
- B. config switch-controller port-policy
- C. set auth-mode radius
- D. set dynamic-vlan enable

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 84

In a Windows environment using AD machine authentication, how does FortiAuthenticator ensure that a previously authenticated device is maintaining its network access once the device resumes operating after sleep or hibernation?

- A. It uses machine authentication based on the device IP address.
- B. It caches the MAC address of authenticated devices for a configurable period of time.
- C. It sends a wake-on-LAN packet to trigger reauthentication.
- D. It temporarily assigns the device to a guest VLAN until full reauthentication is completed.

Answer: B

Explanation:
With AD machine authentication via FortiAuthenticator:
* When a machine successfully authenticates, FortiAuthenticator records:
* Machine account / identity
* MAC address of the device
* Associated IP and session info
To handle sleep/hibernation:
* FortiAuthenticator keeps a cache of authenticated MAC addresses for a configured timeout.
* When the device wakes up and sends traffic again, FortiAuthenticator/FSSO can still treat it as authenticated as long as its MAC is in cache, so access is maintained without forcing a full machine re- auth immediately.
This matches option D.
* A(guest VLAN) is not the standard behavior here.
* B(WoL) is unrelated.
* C(IP-based) would break as IPs can change; MAC-based caching is what's used.
