Fortinet FCP - Google Cloud Security 7.6 Administrator Sample Questions (Q23-Q28):

NEW QUESTION # 23

An organization decided to decommission a deployed FortiWeb instance on Google Cloud.

What is the most efficient way to delete the FortiWeb instance and all of its dependent resources?

- A. Use Google Cloud Deployment Manager to delete the FortiWeb deployment.
- B. Use Google Cloud Solutions to delete the FortiWeb deployment.
- C. Visit Google Cloud Marketplace and unsubscribe from FortiWeb pay-as-you-go.
- D. Delete the FortiWeb instance manually in the Compute Engine portal.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Google Cloud Deployment Manager manages the lifecycle of deployments and their dependent resources, enabling efficient and clean deletion of FortiWeb instances and all associated resources in one operation.

NEW QUESTION # 24

Your organization is deciding between deploying FortiGate active-passive high-availability (HA) in Google Cloud using either the software-defined network (SDN) connector or load balancers.

What two reasons should your organization choose the SDN connector over the load balancer deployment?

(Choose two.)

- A. Cost is lower.
- B. Failovers are faster because of to API calls.
- C. The SDN connector supports multizone failover.
- D. There is less administrative overhead.

Answer: A,D

Explanation:

Using the SDN connector avoids additional load balancer costs, making it more cost-effective.

The SDN connector enables multizone failover by directly managing network routing, which load balancers do not inherently support.

NEW QUESTION # 25

An organization has decided to deploy an active-active high-availability cluster in Google Cloud.

Which three load balancing features are critical to the successful deployment of the cluster? (Choose three.)

- A. The symmetric hashing of the internal passthrough network load balancer
- B. The session termination of the external passthrough network load balancer
- C. The health check used by the internal and the external passthrough network load balancer
- D. The L3_DEFAULT protocol in the forwarding rule of the internal passthrough network load balancer
- E. The forwarding rule for the internal passthrough network load balancer as the next hop for custom routes

Answer: A,C,E

Explanation:

Health checks ensure load balancers route traffic only to healthy cluster members.

Forwarding rules act as next hops in routing, directing traffic appropriately within the HA cluster.

Symmetric hashing ensures consistent and balanced traffic distribution across cluster members, critical for active-active deployments.

NEW QUESTION # 26

An administrator is tasked to deploy two FortiGate devices in two different zones to achieve geographical redundancy.

Which two architectural considerations must the administrator address? (Choose two.)

- A. The FortiGate devices cannot be assigned the second IP address in the subnets that they are deployed in.
- B. The FortiGate devices can be deployed in the same subnet.
- C. The FortiGate devices must be deployed in two different regions.
- D. The FortiGate devices must not be deployed in the same VPC.

Answer: A,C

Explanation:

Deploying FortiGate devices in different regions ensures geographic redundancy.

The second IP address in a subnet is reserved for the default gateway in Google Cloud, so FortiGate devices cannot use that IP.

NEW QUESTION # 27

A cloud administrator has been receiving reports of slow response times from users accessing their organization's web application, which is protected by FortiWeb Cloud.

Which two steps can be taken to potentially alleviate the problem? (Choose two.)

- A. Enabling the content delivery network (CDN).
- B. Changing the DNS records to point to the web application.
- C. Adding additional passthrough load balancers.
- D. Deploying FortiWeb Cloud in the same region where the web application is hosted.

Answer: A,D

Explanation:

Deploying FortiWeb Cloud closer to the web application reduces latency and improves response times.

Enabling CDN caches content closer to users, reducing load times and speeding up content delivery.
