Cloudera CDP Data Engineer - Certification Exam Sample Questions (Q50-Q55):

NEW QUESTION # 50

You have an Airflow DAG that includes tasks for data extraction, transformation, and loading. You notice that the transformation tasks are computationally intensive and are causing delays in the DAG's execution. To optimize performance, you decide to offload these tasks to a cloud-based service that can scale dynamically. Which approach ensures minimal changes to the DAG structure while integrating this optimization?

- A. Modify the transformation tasks to use the PythonOperator to make API calls to the cloud service, handling the transformation.

- B. Implement the transformation tasks as DockerOperator tasks, with each task running in a containerized environment on the cloud service.
- C. Use the ExternalTaskSensor to wait for the transformation to complete on the cloud service before proceeding.
- D. Replace the transformation tasks with HttpSensor tasks that trigger the cloud service and poll for completion.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Option C offers a direct and efficient way to integrate the cloud-based service into the existing DAG with minimal changes. By modifying the transformation tasks to use the PythonOperator for making API calls to the cloud service, you can offload the computational work while maintaining the overall structure and logic of the DAG. This approach allows for dynamic scaling of resources on the cloud service and keeps the task orchestration within Airflow. The HttpSensor is primarily used for sensing or polling a condition, not for offloading and executing tasks. The ExternalTaskSensor is designed to wait for a task in a different DAG to complete, which doesn't apply here. The DockerOperator could potentially offload computation but assumes the cloud service can execute Docker containers directly, which may not align with the specific scaling capabilities or interfaces of the service in question.

NEW QUESTION # 51

A team is planning to use PySpark to read data from an Apache Cassandra database. Which of the following options correctly demonstrates how to load data from a Cassandra table named in the keyspace 'sales'?

- A. ☐
- B. ☒
- C. ☐
- D. ☐

Answer: B

Explanation:

Option B is correct as it uses the specific format for Cassandra ('org.apache.spark.sql.cassandra') and correctly specifies the keyspace and table options.

NEW QUESTION # 52

Which of the following is a benefit of using RESTful APIs with Cloudera Manager for cluster management?

- A. Reduced compatibility with industry-standard tools and protocols.
- B. Direct database access to Cloudera Manager's underlying storage mechanism.
- C. The ability to integrate with continuous integration/continuous deployment (CI/CD) pipelines.
- D. Increased network latency and overhead.

Answer: C

Explanation:

A significant benefit of using RESTful APIs with Cloudera Manager for cluster management is the ability to integrate with CI/CD pipelines. This facilitates the automation of deployment, configuration, and management processes within the Cloudera ecosystem, enabling more agile and efficient operations by leveraging industry-standard protocols and tools for seamless integration.

NEW QUESTION # 53

You want to perform an Iceberg table join in CDP using Spark SQL, but you notice it's much slower than expected. What could be some of the reasons? (Choose two)

- A. Iceberg version mismatch between Spark and CDP.
- B. Spark's dynamic query execution is enabled.
- C. One of the tables isn't partitioned effectively.
- D. Spark is using nested loop joins instead of broadcast hash joins due to table sizes.
- E. You're joining on a column with low cardinality (few distinct values).

Answer: C,D

NEW QUESTION # 54

You need to handle potential errors and retries within your Airflow ETL pipeline. How can you achieve this functionality?

- A. All of the above
- B. Use the BranchPythonOperator to check for specific error conditions and branch the DAG execution accordingly.
- C. Implement exception handling within your custom Python operators and define retry behavior manually.
- D. Configure the DAG to retry failed tasks automatically with a set number of retries.

Answer: A

Explanation:

All options mentioned in D are valid approaches to handle errors and retries in Airflow. You can implement custom error handling, utilize conditional branching based on errors, and configure automatic retries for failed tasks to ensure robustness in your ETL pipeline.
