CompTIA SecAI+ Certification Exam Sample Questions (Q51-Q56):

NEW QUESTION # 51

Which are indicators of lateral movement? (Choose two.)

- A. DNS tunneling traffic
- B. Sudden increase in CPU usage
- C. Use of Pass-the-Hash techniques
- D. Repeated SMB login attempts between internal hosts
- E. Encrypted outbound traffic to a suspicious domain

Answer: C,D

Explanation:

Lateral movement often involves internal SMB attacks and credential reuse.

NEW QUESTION # 52

A security administrator wants to prevent prompt injection attacks and ensure responses have sanitized output. Which of the following provides a primary compensating control for these requirements?

- A. Encryption
- B. A large language model (LLM) firewall
- C. Least privilege
- D. Rate limiting

Answer: B

Explanation:

Basic Concept: Preventing prompt injection and ensuring output sanitization requires a control that can inspect both the semantic content of incoming prompts and the safety of outgoing responses. This requires an intelligent, context-aware filtering layer specifically designed for LLM traffic. CompTIA SecAI+ Study Guide identifies LLM firewalls as a primary control for prompt security and output safety.

Why C is Correct: An LLM firewall is specifically designed to inspect, filter, and sanitize both incoming prompts and outgoing AI responses. It can detect and block prompt injection attempts using pattern matching, semantic analysis, and behavioral heuristics, while also sanitizing output to remove sensitive data, harmful content, or policy violations before responses reach users. This dual capability makes it the primary control addressing both requirements simultaneously.

Why A is Wrong: Least privilege restricts what resources and actions users and systems can access. It reduces the potential impact of successful attacks but does not inspect prompt content for injection attempts or sanitize model outputs.

Why B is Wrong: Encryption protects data confidentiality in transit and at rest. It does not analyze prompt content for malicious patterns or filter AI-generated responses for unsafe content. Encrypted traffic can still carry prompt injection attacks.

Why D is Wrong: Rate limiting controls request frequency. While it can slow down automated injection attack campaigns, it does not inspect the content of individual prompts to detect injections, nor does it sanitize output responses. Malicious prompts can still succeed within rate limits.

NEW QUESTION # 53

Which of the following describe the practice of providing examples in a prompt? (Choose two.)

- A. Prompt template
- B. User prompt
- C. One-shot
- D. System prompt
- E. Quantization
- F. Multi-shot

Answer: C,F

Explanation:

Providing examples in a prompt is referred to as one-shot prompting when a single example is given and multi-shot prompting when multiple examples are provided.

NEW QUESTION # 54

A global security operations center (SOC) wants to adapt and leverage the strength of AI in order to enhance its security operations. Which of the following is the best way to enhance the global SOC functions?

- A. Generate code and execute in production to help save time.
- B. Use open-source models in production to help the efficiency of threat detection and threat analysis.
- C. Summarize alerts to easily gain insights on the environment.
- D. Enable a personal assistant that can act in the global SOC with no human intervention.

Answer: C

Explanation:

AI can significantly enhance SOC operations by summarizing and correlating high volumes of alerts, enabling analysts to quickly identify patterns, prioritize threats, and gain actionable insights. This reduces analyst fatigue and improves response times without introducing unsafe automation risks.

NEW QUESTION # 55

A security administrator must provide access controls for AI systems to list tables. Which of the following should the administrator implement?

- A. Model access
- B. Data access
- C. Agentic AI access
- D. Network access control list (NACL)

Answer: B

Explanation:

Since the requirement is to control which users or systems can list tables, the proper control lies at the data access level. Implementing data access controls ensures only authorized entities can view or query the underlying tables used by the AI system.
