6.Which two NetApp products offer hardware encryption? (Choose two.)

- A. NetApp Storage Encryption (NSE)
- B. NVMe self-encrypting drives (SED)
- C. NetApp Aggregate Encryption (NAE)
- D. NetApp Volume Encryption (NVE)

Answer: A

Explanation:

NetApp Storage Encryption (NSE) and NVMe self-encrypting drives (SED) are two NetApp products that offer hardware encryption. Hardware encryption is a method of encrypting data at the disk level using a hardware-accelerated mechanism. NSE requires all drives in an HA pair to be purpose-built, self-encrypting drives. These drives perform the data encryption themselves through a hardware-accelerated mechanism. Because of the hardware acceleration, NSE systems usually outperform NVE systems when encrypting data1. NVMe self-encrypting drives (SED) are a type of NSE drives that use the NVMe protocol to provide high performance and low latency. NVMe SEDs are supported on select NetApp AFF systems2.

Network Appliance NetApp Technology Solutions Professional Exam Sample Questions (Q100-Q105):

NEW QUESTION # 100

On which parameter is the NetApp BlueXP observability pricing model based?

- A. capacity of metrics that are ingested
- B. number of managed units
- C. frequency of metric ingestion
- D. number of logging intervals

Answer: A

Explanation:

NetApp BlueXP, which is a suite of cloud-based services, typically uses a pricing model that focuses on the amount of data processed or managed, rather than the number of log entries, the frequency of metric ingestion, or the number of managed units. In the context of observability and monitoring services, this often translates to pricing based on the volume or capacity of metrics ingested into the system for analysis and monitoring purposes.

This approach aligns with common practices in cloud service pricing, where the emphasis is on the resources consumed (in this case, the data capacity) rather than the frequency of operations or the count of monitored entities.

So, option C is the most likely correct answer for the pricing model of NetApp BlueXP's observability services.
