HPE Network Switching Associate Exam Sample Questions (Q15-Q20):

NEW QUESTION # 15

When is a default gateway used?

- A. When sending traffic outside the local subnet.
- B. When other gateways are not available.
- C. When the switch MAC address table is empty.
- D. When sending traffic within the local subnet.

Answer: A

Explanation:

A default gateway is used to forward packets to destinations outside the local subnet, enabling communication with remote networks.

NEW QUESTION # 16

Match the definitions for Power over Ethernet.

802.3af	802.3at	802.3bt (Type 3)	802.3bt (Type 4)	Answer Area
					Maximum power of 30W
					Maximum power of 90W
					Maximum power of 60W
					Maximum power of 15.4W

Answer:

Explanation:

802.3af	802.3at	802.3bt (Type 3)	802.3bt (Type 4)	Answer Area
				802.3af	Maximum power of 30W
				802.3bt (Type 4)	Maximum power of 90W
				802.3bt (Type 3)	Maximum power of 60W
				802.3at	Maximum power of 15.4W

Explanation:

PoE Definition	Answer
Maximum power of 30W	B. 802.3at
Maximum power of 90W	D. 802.3bt Type 4
Maximum power of 60W	C. 802.3bt Type 3
Maximum power of 15.4W	A. 802.3af

The correct matches are 802.3af for 15.4W, 802.3at for 30W, 802.3bt Type 3 for 60W, and 802.3bt Type 4 for 90W. HPE Aruba Networking AOS-CX PoE documentation explains that PoE powered devices are divided into different types and classes according to their power requirements. It identifies Type 1 as supplying a maximum of 15.4W from the power sourcing equipment, which corresponds to IEEE 802.3af. Type 2 supplies a maximum of 30W, which corresponds to IEEE 802.3at. Type 3 supplies a maximum of 60W and Type 4 supplies a maximum of 90W, both under IEEE 802.3bt. These values are important when selecting switch PoE capability for devices such as access points, cameras, sensors, phones, and other powered devices. The switch must have both the per-port PoE capability and enough total PoE power budget to support the connected devices.

NEW QUESTION # 17

What is the default multicast IP address used for sending OSPF hello packets?

- A. 224.0.0.3
- B. 224.0.0.2
- C. 224.0.0.1
- D. 224.0.0.5
- E. 224.0.0.4

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 18

What is considered a secure protocol?

- A. SNMPv3
- B. HTTP
- C. Telnet
- D. TFTP

Answer: A

Explanation:

The correct answer is D. SNMPv3. HPE Aruba Networking AOS-CX hardening documentation recommends using SNMPv3 instead of older SNMP versions because older SNMP versions are unauthenticated and unencrypted, with the community string transmitted in plaintext. The same guide states that SNMPv3 supports different users, authentication, and strong encryption. This makes SNMPv3 the secure protocol among the options. HTTP is not the best answer because standard HTTP does not encrypt management or web traffic; HTTPS would be the secure alternative. TFTP is not secure because it does not provide encryption or strong authentication for file transfers. Telnet is also not secure because it sends session traffic, including login information, in clear text; SSH is the secure alternative for CLI management. Therefore, from the listed protocols, only SNMPv3 provides security mechanisms appropriate for secure network management, including authenticated and encrypted communication.

NEW QUESTION # 19

An IT administrator needs a cloud-based platform to monitor, configure, and troubleshoot multiple Aruba switches from a central location. Which solution should the administrator use?

- A. Aruba NetEdit
- B. Aruba Central
- C. Aruba ClearPass

- D. Aruba AirWave

Answer: B

Explanation:

Aruba Central is a cloud-based management platform designed to monitor, configure, and troubleshoot Aruba network devices (including switches, access points, and gateways) from a central location. It provides centralized management, monitoring, and troubleshooting capabilities for network administrators, offering real-time visibility and control over the entire network infrastructure.
