DSCI DCPLA certification exam covers a wide range of topics related to data privacy, including privacy principles, privacy laws and regulations, privacy risk management, privacy controls, privacy impact assessments, privacy audits, and privacy incident management. DCPLA exam is designed to test the candidate's understanding of these topics and their ability to apply them in real-world scenarios. DCPLA exam is also designed to test the candidate's ability to conduct privacy assessments, develop privacy policies and procedures, and provide guidance on privacy-related issues.

The DCPLA Certification Exam is meant to assess a professional's knowledge and skills in identifying, assessing and evaluating privacy risks, designing and implementing privacy programs, developing privacy compliance strategies, and addressing privacy-related issues in an organization. It aims to provide individuals with a comprehensive understanding of privacy concepts, principles, and practices, as well as a deep understanding of the various data protection laws and regulations in India, Asia Pacific, and the rest of the world.

DSCI Certified Privacy Lead Assessor DCPLA certification Sample Questions (Q38-Q43):

NEW QUESTION # 38

Certification once granted, will be valid for period of _____ years subject to surveillance assessments.

- A. 0
- B. 1
- C. 2
- D. 3

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 39

Your district council releases an interactive map of orange trees in the district which shows that the locality in which your house is located has the highest concentration of orange trees. Does the council map contain your personal information?

- A. No - Orange trees are not a person and so it can't have personal information.
- B. It depends - on the context of other information associated with the map.
- C. None of the above.
- D. Yes - your ownership of the property is a matter of public record.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Personal Information under DSCI and global frameworks is information relating to an identified or identifiable individual. Whether the council's map contains personal data depends on:

* If the map, when combined with other information (like land records or property ownership data), could lead to identifying you as a resident or owner.

Hence, the answer is context-specific. If the map alone doesn't identify you, it's not personal information. But if combined with additional data, it may lead to your identification, thus qualifying it as personal information.

This aligns with DPF's emphasis on "reasonably identifiable" individuals in assessing the scope of personal data.

NEW QUESTION # 40

Which of the following activities form part of an organization's Visibility over Personal Information (VPI) initiative, according to DSCI Privacy Framework (DPF)?

- A. 'Data processing environment' analysis of the country
- B. 'Data processing environment' analysis of the organization and associated third parties
- C. 'Data processing environment' analysis of industry peers
- D. 'Data processing environment' analysis of the organization only

Answer: B

Explanation:

The VPI practice area in the DPF emphasizes the importance of identifying personal data, understanding its flow, and assessing risks not only within the organization but also across third parties with whom data is shared or processed.

Therefore, analyzing the data processing environment of both the organization and associated third parties is critical to achieving visibility over personal information.

NEW QUESTION # 41

An entity shall retain personal data only as long as may be reasonably necessary to satisfy the purpose for which it is processed; or with respect to an established retention period. This privacy principle is known as?

- A. Security safeguards
- B. Storage Limitation
- C. Use Limitation
- D. Collection Limitation

Answer: B

Explanation:

The "Storage Limitation" principle ensures that personal data is retained only for as long as necessary for the purposes for which it was collected.

The DSCI Privacy Framework and DAF-P© define this principle as:

"Personal data should be kept in a form which permits identification of data subjects for no longer than is necessary for the purposes for which the personal data are processed." This prevents over-retention, minimizes risks of data breaches, and complies with legal and regulatory mandates for data minimization. Retention schedules and secure disposal practices are assessed under this principle in privacy audits.

NEW QUESTION # 42

As a privacy assessor, what would most likely be the first artefact you would ask for while assessing an organization which claims that it has implemented a privacy program?

- A. Records of deployed privacy notices and statements
- B. Privacy risk management framework
- C. Records of privacy specific training imparted to the employees handling personal information
- D. Personal information management policy

Answer: D

Explanation:

According to the DSCI Assessment Framework for Privacy (DAF#P), a "Personal Information Management Policy" is a foundational artefact that reflects the organization's commitment and operationalization of privacy practices. It typically defines how personal information is collected, used, disclosed, retained, and disposed of across the organization.

This artefact not only outlines governance structures and responsibilities but also links to other aspects such as risk management, compliance tracking, and privacy notices. Hence, it is the logical first document for a privacy assessor to request.
