Appian Certified Analyst Sample Questions (Q25-Q30):

NEW QUESTION # 25

As an Appian Analyst, which activity are you responsible for during the "optimize" phase of a project?

- A. Build the deployment pipeline
- B. Conduct release planning
- C. Measure the impact of application release
- D. Structure an application support team

Answer: C

Explanation:

During the "optimize" phase of an Appian project, the focus is on evaluating and improving the performance and impact of the application after its release. As an Appian Analyst, your role in this phase involves measuring the impact of the application release, which includes gathering and analyzing data on user adoption, performance metrics, and overall business impact. This data-driven approach helps in identifying areas for improvement and optimization to ensure the application continues to meet business objectives effectively. Appian Documentation - Application Lifecycle Management Note: The other options (A, B, C) are typically the responsibilities of other roles in different phases of the project, such as developers or project managers, and not specific to the "optimize" phase for an Appian Analyst.

NEW QUESTION # 26

What are the two best uses for a "Staging" or "Parallel to Prod" environment (separate from Dev, Test, and Prod environments)?

- A. Testing a new release for compatibility with existing Production code/settings
- B. Practicing complex production deployments
- C. Sprint acceptance testing
- D. Unit testing development stories

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

A "Staging" or "Parallel to Prod" environment is a crucial part of the software deployment lifecycle. It is used to mirror the Production environment as closely as possible, allowing teams to test new releases and practice deployments without affecting live users.

Testing Compatibility (B):

Staging is the ideal environment to ensure that new code releases are compatible with the existing production settings and configurations.

This helps in identifying any potential issues that could disrupt the live environment before the actual deployment.

Practicing Deployments (C):

Staging is also used to rehearse complex production deployments. This practice helps ensure that the deployment process is smooth and that all steps are properly executed without errors.

It reduces the risk of downtime or issues during the actual production deployment.

Why Not Other Options?:

A . Unit Testing Development Stories: Unit testing is typically done in the Dev or Test environments, not in Staging.

D . Sprint Acceptance Testing: This testing is generally conducted in the Test environment as part of the sprint cycle, not in Staging.

NEW QUESTION # 27

You are part of an Agile team, and your responsibilities and attributes include:

A keen understanding of the business, the customer, and the market

The ability to clearly express product backlog items

The ability to prioritize the backlog to optimize the value of what the team will deliver The ability to order the items in the product backlog to best achieve goals and missions.

What is your role name?

- A. Sponsor
- B. Product Owner
- C. Appian Analyst

- D. Scrum Master

Answer: B

Explanation:

The responsibilities and attributes described are aligned with the role of a Product Owner in an Agile team. The Product Owner is responsible for maximizing the value of the product resulting from the work of the development team. They have a deep understanding of the business, customer needs, and market trends, and they use this knowledge to manage and prioritize the product backlog.

Role of Product Owner:

Understanding the Business: The Product Owner must understand the business context to prioritize work that delivers the most value.

Expressing Product Backlog Items: The Product Owner is responsible for defining and clearly expressing the items in the product backlog.

Prioritizing and Ordering the Backlog: The Product Owner prioritizes and orders the backlog items to optimize the team's output and ensure alignment with business goals.

Why Not Other Options?:

A . Appian Analyst: While an Appian Analyst may have some similar responsibilities, the specific role of managing the product backlog and optimizing the value delivered by the team is the core responsibility of the Product Owner.

B . Scrum Master: The Scrum Master facilitates the Scrum process but does not manage the product backlog.

D . Sponsor: The Sponsor typically provides financial support and strategic direction but does not manage day-to-day product backlog activities.

The Product Owner role is crucial in ensuring that the development team is working on the most valuable features and that the product aligns with business and market needs.

NEW QUESTION # 28

Consider the below use case:

A third-party system needs to push information to Appian in real-time.

The information is processed in Appian and a case ID is returned.

The third-party system displays the reference case ID on the confirmation screen.

Which integration approach is most suitable?

- A. Use an integration object
- B. Use FTP/SFTP
- C. Use a web API-based integration
- D. Use message queues

Answer: C

Explanation:

The most suitable integration approach for the given use case is web API-based integration (A). Web APIs allow real-time communication between the third-party system and Appian. The third-party system can send information to Appian through an HTTP request, which Appian processes, and then returns the case ID in the response. This real-time, synchronous interaction is ideal for scenarios where immediate feedback, like displaying a case ID on a confirmation screen, is required. Appian Documentation - Web APIs Note: The other options-FTP/SFTP (B), integration objects (C), and message queues (D)-are not as suitable for real-time, synchronous interactions. FTP/SFTP is typically used for batch processing, integration objects facilitate interactions within Appian, and message queues are better suited for asynchronous processing.

NEW QUESTION # 29

Of the choices provided, which are the three most appropriate use cases for Appian?

- A. The customer needs to perform large-scale extract, transform, and load (ETL) operations
- B. The customer needs to have one site tab for each of their seven personas
- C. The customer needs to be able to run their application on mobile devices
- D. The customer needs to be able to run their application in a browser
- E. The customer needs to be able to embed the application within their own web page

Answer: B,C,D

Explanation:

Appian is a low-code platform designed for building enterprise applications with a focus on flexibility, user experience, and integration capabilities. The most appropriate use cases for Appian include:

Mobile Compatibility (B):

Appian supports mobile-first design, allowing applications to be easily accessed and used on mobile devices without requiring separate development efforts.

This capability is critical for businesses that need their workforce to access applications on the go.

Multiple Site Tabs for Personas (C):

Appian allows for the creation of different site tabs for different user personas, each with a tailored user experience.

This is ideal for organizations with distinct user groups who need customized interfaces and access to specific parts of the application.

Browser-Based Application (D):

Appian applications are web-based and can be accessed directly from a browser, ensuring easy access and a consistent user experience across different platforms.

Why Not Other Options?:

A . Large-Scale ETL Operations: Appian is not primarily designed for heavy data extraction, transformation, and loading (ETL) tasks, which are typically handled by specialized ETL tools.

E . Embedding in Web Pages: While Appian allows for embedding certain components, it is not the primary focus or strength of the platform compared to full-featured applications.
