CIPS Managing Ethical Procurement and Supply (L5M5) 認定 L5M5 試験問題 (Q42-Q47):

質問 #42

Which of the following methods does the ILO use to monitor compliance with labor standards in its member states?

- A. Direct intervention in national legal systems
- B. Monitoring through commercial advertising and media channels
- C. Reporting system, direct observations, and complaints mechanism
- D. Only direct financial audits of companies

正解: C

解説:

Choice B- The ILO uses a combination of methods to monitor labor standards, such as reporting, investigating which falls under direct observation and complaints mechanism.

Incorrect answer:

Choice A- The ILO does not conduct financial audits of individual companies but relies on reports and investigations at the country level.

Choice C- While the ILO provides technical assistance, it does not directly intervene in national legal systems but works with governments to improve compliance.

Choice D- The ILO does not monitor labor standards through commercial advertising or media but relies on formal mechanisms such as reports, investigations, and dialogues.

質問 #43

A group of small-scale coffee farmers in a rural village has been receiving the Fairtrade Premium for their products. During a recent community meeting, they discuss how to allocate the premium funds for the upcoming year. Which of the following projects would best align with the principles of the Fairtrade Premium in addition to the fair trade price?

- A. Distributing the funds equally among the farmers to use as they see fit
- B. Allocating the funds to one farmer to expand their personal farming business
- C. Investing in building a community health clinic to improve access to healthcare for all villagers
- D. Using the funds to subsidize private education for the children of the wealthiest farmers

正解: C

解説:

Choice B- This option aligns with the principles of Fair Trade, as the premium is intended to support projects that benefit the community as a whole, fostering development and sustainability.

Incorrect answer:

Choice A- While this might seem fair at first glance, the Fairtrade Premium is not meant for personal distribution. Its purpose is to fund collective projects that benefit the entire community, such as infrastructure, education, or health initiatives.

Choice C- This option does not align with the principles of equity and inclusivity. Fair Trade encourages using the premium to benefit the entire community, particularly the most vulnerable and marginalized groups, rather than focusing on individuals who are already advantaged.

Choice D- Providing funds to a single farmer for personal business expansion is not in line with the collective approach of Fair Trade. The premium is intended to address community-wide challenges and improve the shared resources and infrastructure for all. 質問 # 44

Which ONE of the following best exemplifies a competitive advantage?

- A. A business with a good reputation
- B. Temporarily undercutting a competitor's already low prices
- C. Delivering products faster and with more accessibility than competitors
- D. Employee uniforms

正解: C

解説:

Choice C- This option represents a competitive advantage. Faster delivery and better accessibility can enhance customer satisfaction and loyalty, leading to increased sales. Therefore C is the correct answer.

Incorrect answer:

Choice A- Reputation is not a competitive advantage. However, if a business does something very well then it may gain a strong reputation giving it a competitive advantage.

Choice B- This strategy is not a sustainable competitive advantage. While it may attract customers in the short term, it can lead to price wars and does not provide a long-term benefit. Eventually, competitors may match or undercut those prices, resulting in no lasting advantage.

Choice D- Employee Uniforms do not contribute to competitive advantage. They may enhance brand image or create a professional appearance but do not offer a distinct advantage that impacts costs or product attractiveness directly. Employee Uniforms mainly serve a functional role without directly impacting competitive strategies.

質問 # 45

Despite Mr. Benjamin being galling, he is the boss, and employees recognize that he has worked hard to earn his management position. When he gives orders, you comply because you acknowledge his authority. What type of power does Mr. Benjamin hold?

- A. Legitimate Power
- B. Network Power
- C. Expert Power
- D. Referent Power

正解: A

解説:

Choice B- The correct answer is legitimate power, as it stems from a person's position within the organization. Mr. Benjamin's authority as a manager grants him the power to give orders, and employees are expected to comply due to his status and role.

Incorrect answer:

Choice A- Expert power is possessed by someone who has skills, knowledge or expertise in a certain area. In this situation Mr Benjamin does not have any expertise of any area.

Choice C-Nothing about strong interpersonal relationship skills is mentioned here which people with referent power have.

Choice D-Network power stakeholders usually have access to valuable connections or are central to a powerful group. So again nothing about these qualities are mentioned about Mr Benjamin.

質問 #46

Which of the following best defines the concept of total landed costs?

- A. The lowest logistics cost of a product
- B. The sum of all product and logistics related cost
- C. The sum of all logistics cost related to a product
- D. The difference between the product and logistics related cost

正解： B

解説:

According to the study guide, the correct answer is Choice C. Total landed cost refers to the complete cost of delivering a product to its final destination. This includes the original product price, transportation costs, fees, customs and duty charges, currency exchange rates, and handling costs.
