CrowdStrike Certified Identity Specialist(CCIS) Exam Sample Questions (Q47-Q52):

NEW QUESTION # 47

When creating an API client, which scope with Writepermissions must be enabled prior to using Identity Protection API?

- A. Identity Protection Health
- B. Identity Protection Assessment

- C. There is no need for Write permissions in order to use IDP API
- D. Identity Protection GraphQL

Answer: D

Explanation:

To interact with Falcon Identity Protection using GraphQL, the API client must be created with the appropriate permission scopes. According to the CCIS curriculum, the Identity Protection GraphQL scope with Write permissions must be enabled prior to using the Identity Protection API.

This scope allows the API client to execute GraphQL queries and mutations related to identity detections, incidents, users, and risk data. Even when performing read-only operations, CrowdStrike requires the GraphQL Write scope to authorize GraphQL query execution within the Falcon platform.

The other options are incorrect because:

* Identity Protection Assessment and Health are read-only data scopes.

* The statement that Write permissions are not required is explicitly false per CCIS documentation.

Because GraphQL access requires the Identity Protection GraphQL (Write) scope, Option D is the correct and verified answer.

NEW QUESTION # 48

Any countries or regions included in the _ will trigger a geolocation detection.

- A. Dictionary
- B. Blocklist
- C. Exclusion
- D. Allowlist

Answer: B

Explanation:

Falcon Identity Protection supports geolocation-based detections to identify potentially risky authentication activity originating from unexpected or prohibited locations. According to the CCIS curriculum, any countries or regions added to the Blocklist will automatically trigger a geolocation-based detection when authentication traffic is observed from those locations.

The Blocklist is designed to explicitly define disallowed geographic regions. When an authentication attempt originates from a blocklisted country or region, Falcon treats the activity as suspicious and generates a detection or contributes to increased identity risk.

By contrast:

* An Allowlist defines approved locations and suppresses detections.

* A Dictionary is used for password-related analysis.

* An Exclusion suppresses detections rather than generating them.

Because geolocation detections are triggered by blocklisted locations, Option B is the correct answer.

NEW QUESTION # 49

Describe the difference between a Human account and a Programmatic account.

- A. A programmatic account is only used interactively
- B. A human account is an Administrator
- C. A human account is often used interactively
- D. A programmatic account is never authorized for multi-factor authentication

Answer: C

Explanation:

Falcon Identity Protection differentiates human accounts and programmatic accounts based on authentication behavior, not naming conventions or assigned roles. According to the CCIS curriculum, human accounts are often used interactively, meaning they authenticate through direct user actions such as workstation logins, VPN access, or application access.

Programmatic accounts (such as service accounts) typically authenticate non-interactively, often on a predictable schedule or in response to automated processes. Falcon analyzes authentication frequency, protocol usage, timing, and access patterns to classify account types automatically.

The incorrect options reflect common misconceptions:

* Human accounts are not always administrators.

* Programmatic accounts can support MFA in some architectures.

* Programmatic accounts are not used interactively.

Because interactive authentication behavior is the defining characteristic of human accounts, Option D is the correct and verified answer.

NEW QUESTION # 50

What setting can be switched under the Domain Security Overview for each Active Directory domain and/or Azure tenant?

- A. Scope
- B. Goal
- C. Privileged Identities
- D. Domains

Answer: A

Explanation:

In the Domain Security Overview, Scope is a configurable setting that allows administrators to switch between Active Directory domains and Azure tenants. This capability is essential for organizations managing multiple identity environments, as it enables targeted risk assessment and comparison across different identity infrastructures.

The CCIS documentation explains that Scope determines which domain or tenant's identity data is displayed in the Overview dashboard, including risk scores, trends, and prioritized remediation guidance.

Changing the scope does not alter risk calculations; it simply refocuses the analysis on the selected identity environment.

Other options are incorrect because:

* Privileged Identities represent a subset of users, not a switchable setting.

* Domains are entities, not a dashboard control.

* Goal changes how risks are evaluated, not which environment is displayed.

By allowing granular control over which domain or tenant is analyzed, Scope supports accurate identity risk management in complex, hybrid environments. Therefore, Option D is the correct answer.

NEW QUESTION # 51

How should an organization address the domain risk score found in the Domain Security Overview page?

- A. Prioritizing the detections by severity, addressing the High (Red) detections first
- B. Prioritizing the risks by severity, addressing the Medium (Yellow) risks first
- C. Address the risks on the list from top to bottom as risks are presented in a descending order
- D. Prioritizing the risks by severity, addressing the Low (Green) risks first

Answer: C

Explanation:

The Domain Security Overview page in Falcon Identity Protection presents domain risks in a prioritized, descending order, based on a combination of severity, likelihood, and consequence. The CCIS curriculum emphasizes that organizations should address risks from top to bottom, as the list is already optimized to reflect the most impactful identity risks first.

This ordering allows security teams to focus remediation efforts where they will produce the greatest reduction in overall domain risk score. Addressing risks sequentially ensures alignment with Falcon's risk modeling and avoids misprioritization that could occur if teams focus only on color-based severity or individual detections.

The incorrect options reflect common misconceptions:

* Medium risks should not be prioritized over higher-impact risks.

* Detections are different from risks and should not be addressed independently of risk context.

* Low risks are intentionally deprioritized by the platform.

By following the descending order provided in the Domain Security Overview, organizations align remediation with Falcon's Zero Trust-driven identity risk scoring methodology, making Option A the correct answer.
