Explanation

Private Account Sharing with Sharing Rules from Commercial Sales Group(s) to Commercial Support Group(s) and Consumer Sales Group(s) to Consumer Support Group(s) is the recommended Org-Wide Sharing Default for Accounts and the way to enable proper Commercial and Consumer Sales to Support Account Sharing for this scenario. This way, the sales and support departments can share their customers with each other, but not with the other departments. The other options are incorrect because they either do not allow the sales and support departments to share their customers (A and B) or they allow too much access to the accounts.

解説:

Explanation

Sharing the list views with the appropriate public group and sharing the list views with the appropriate role in the role hierarchy are two ways that UC can hide lists that are not relevant to an individual user. List view sharing allows users to share list views with other users based on public groups, roles, subordinates, or individual users. This way, users can only see list views that are relevant to them and their work. Option A is incorrect, since sharing list views with a queue is not possible. Option B is incorrect, since sharing list views with individual users would be tedious and inefficient.
