Microsoft 365 Copilot & Agent Administration Fundamentals Sample Questions (Q23-Q28):

NEW QUESTION # 23

You are reviewing your company's security policies as part of a Zero Trust strategy. Which statement accurately describes the Zero Trust principles?

- A. Zero Trust removes the need to regularly review and adjust access permissions.
- B. Zero Trust treats all requests from your corporate network as trustworthy.
- C. Zero Trust enhances the user experience by minimizing authentication prompts.
- D. Zero Trust assumes breach and verifies each request.

Answer: D

Explanation:

The correct answer is A. Microsoft Learn defines Zero Trust as a security strategy built on the principles verify explicitly, use least privilege access, and assume breach. Microsoft also summarizes Zero Trust as a model that assumes breach and verifies every request, rather than trusting users, devices, or traffic simply because they originate from inside the corporate network. This is the key reason option A is correct.

Under Zero Trust, every access request should be evaluated continuously using available signals such as identity, device state, location, service, and risk.

Option B is incorrect because improving user experience is not the defining principle of Zero Trust. Option C is incorrect because Zero Trust requires ongoing review and adjustment of permissions, especially through least privilege and risk-based access. Option D is incorrect because Zero Trust explicitly rejects implicit trust based on network location. Microsoft states that organizations should reduce reliance on the traditional idea that anything on the internal network is automatically safe or trustworthy.

NEW QUESTION # 24

A critical governance risk when implementing Microsoft 365 Copilot is the potential for oversharing of corporate data. The Chief Compliance Officer is concerned that, because Copilot uses all data a user can access, a user may inadvertently get access to sensitive information they should not have. What is the most common cause of this oversharing risk that administrators must address as a high-priority governance task before deploying Copilot widely?

- A. Azure OpenAI model training uses tenant data and retains it in the tenant
- B. Overly broad permissions granted to sites or files
- C. Copilot bypasses SharePoint access controls when content is indexed
- D. Copilot chat history is not subject to eDiscovery or retention

Answer: B

Explanation:

The core risk (and a key administrative task before Copilot deployment) is that if a document has been accidentally or intentionally granted access to "Everyone" or "All Company" in SharePoint or OneDrive, every licensed Copilot user will have the potential to retrieve and summarize that data.

Since Copilot respects existing permissions, it will expose the broad access that was already present in the M365 environment, making the overly broad permission the root cause of the oversharing risk.

Your organization has a Microsoft 365 subscription.

A user named John is assigned an admin role as shown in the following exhibit.

Global readers have read-only access to admin centers, while Global admins have unlimited access to edit all settings. Users assigned other roles are more limited in what they can see and do.

Answer Area

John can [answer choice].

- View all the users in the Microsoft Entra tenant
- view all the content in Microsoft SharePoint sites
- read all the content in Microsoft Exchange mailboxes
- perform eDiscovery of Microsoft 365 Copilot prompts

Explanation:

Answer Area

John can [answer choice].

view all the users in the Microsoft Entra tenant

The correct answer is View all the users in the Microsoft Entra tenant . In the exhibit, John is assigned the Global Reader role. Microsoft documents that the Global Reader role is intended for users who need to view administrator features and settings in admin centers that a Global Administrator can view, but without edit permissions. That makes it appropriate for read-only visibility into tenant-wide directory and admin information, including users in Microsoft Entra.

The other answer choices are not supported by the Global Reader role. Microsoft distinguishes admin-center visibility from access to content in workloads such as SharePoint sites and Exchange mailboxes. Global Reader is a read-only administrative role, not a content access role for reading all documents or mailbox items. Likewise, performing eDiscovery of Microsoft 365 Copilot prompts requires Purview eDiscovery permissions or role group membership, not merely the Global Reader role. Microsoft documents eDiscovery permissions separately in Purview role groups.

Therefore, based on the assigned role shown, the valid completion is that John can view all the users in the Microsoft Entra tenant.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 27

You need to create a Microsoft 365 Copilot agent that can create charts and visualizations based on a Microsoft Excel workbook. What should you configure for the agent?

- A. the Customer Insights Assistant template
- B. the image generator capability
- C. the code interpreter capability
- D. the Scrum Assistant template

Answer: C

Explanation:

The correct answer is C. the code interpreter capability. Microsoft Learn states that the code interpreter capability for Microsoft 365 Copilot declarative agents allows the agent to generate and execute Python code to analyze data and generate visualizations. Microsoft's agent schema documentation explicitly describes Code Interpreter as a capability used to solve complex math problems, analyze data, and generate visualizations. That directly matches the requirement to create charts and visualizations from a Microsoft Excel workbook.

Microsoft documentation also explains that code interpreter supports working with Excel files and is used for scenarios such as data analysis, statistical computations, and generating charts. This makes it the correct configuration for an agent that must reason over workbook data and produce chart-based outputs. By contrast, the image generator capability is for creating images, not for analyzing workbook data. The Scrum Assistant and Customer Insights Assistant options are templates, not the specific technical capability required to read data and build charts from an Excel workbook.
