Salesforce Certified Platform User Experience Designer Sample Questions (Q39-Q44):

NEW QUESTION # 39

Cloud Kicks's development team is working on the build of a new custom component using VS Code. They often have new CSS classes and properties conflicting with the Salesforce Lightning Design System (SLDS).

What should simplify working with SLDS in Lightning Components?

- A. Install SLDS creator from AppExchange
- B. SLDS Validator extension for VS Code
- C. Keep the SLDS Stylesheet open for reference
- D. Salesforce Developer Console should be used instead

Answer: B

Explanation:

The SLDS Validator extension for VS Code is a tool that simplifies working with the Salesforce Lightning Design System (SLDS) in Aura and Lightning components. It provides code completion, syntax highlighting, and validation with recommended tokens and utility classes. It also scans the markup and validates it against a database of guidelines, tips, and best practices extracted from the SLDS documentation. It offers suggestions on how to improve the code and avoid conflicts with SLDS. SLDS Validator - Visual Studio Marketplace, SLDS Validator for VS Code - Lightning Design System

NEW QUESTION # 40

A UX Designer needs to declutter the Highlights panel for a custom object's Lightning page. The team that uses this object explained there are too many action buttons; only specific actions are used for each status of the record.

Which Lightning Record Page feature should be used to solve this problem?

- A. Dynamic Forms
- B. A Dynamic Actions
- C. Audiences

Answer: B

Explanation:

Dynamic Actions are a feature that allows the UX Designer to customize the actions that appear on the Highlights panel of a Lightning record page based on criteria such as record status, user profile, or field value. This way, the UX Designer can declutter the Highlights panel and show only the relevant actions for each record. Dynamic Actions can be configured in the Lightning App Builder instead of the page layout editor, which gives more flexibility and control to the UX Designer. Reference:

NEW QUESTION # 41

A UX Designer is asked to build a solution in Salesforce to accommodate a call center's process and make it easier for them to log complaints.

How should the designer illustrate the existing process, including the pain points and opportunities?

- A. Observe the complaints process and create a journey map.
- B. Observe the complaints process and create a prototype.
- C. Observe the complaints process and create a business process diagram.

Answer: A

Explanation:

The best way for the designer to illustrate the existing process, including the pain points and opportunities, is to observe the complaints process and create a journey map. A journey map is a visual representation of the customer's or user's experience with a product or service, from their perspective. It shows the steps, interactions, thoughts, feelings, touchpoints, context, and opportunities for improvement along the way. A journey map can help the designer to understand the current state of the complaints process, identify the pain points and gaps, and prioritize the areas for intervention. A journey map can also help to communicate the user's needs and expectations to the stakeholders and developers, and align them on a common vision for the solution. Reference:

NEW QUESTION # 42

During user interviews, a UX Designer discovers that the most common daily task for users is to look for and view commonly used reports using the global search bar.
What should be done to improve their experience?

- A. Create a mood board to communicate the visual style of the UI.
- B. Add the Daily Task component to the Home page.
- C. Update the Home page with access to commonly used reports.
- D. Make the global search bar bigger on every page.

Answer: C

Explanation:

The best option for improving the user experience of looking for and viewing commonly used reports is to update the Home page with access to commonly used reports. This way, the user can quickly access the reports they need without having to use the global search bar every time. This also follows the principle of designing for the user's goals and tasks, which is one of the learning objectives for the Salesforce User Experience Designer certification. NEW QUESTION # 43

Cloud Kicks (CK) wants to integrate learning in the flow of work and is considering using In-App Learning functionality. CK wants to assign learning content to employees as part of its onboarding process.
Which two features could be assigned to learners? Choose 2 answers

- A. Trailmixes
- B. Trails
- C. External LMS Content
- D. Modules/Badges

Answer: A,D

Explanation:

CK can assign learning content to employees using In-App Learning functionality in the following two ways:

Trailmixes: Trailmixes are custom learning paths that can include modules, projects, trails, and even external links. CK can create and assign trailmixes to learners based on their roles, goals, or interests. Learners can access trailmixes from the Learning Home or the Guidance Center in Salesforce.

Modules/Badges: Modules are units of instruction that cover specific topics and skills. Badges are earned by completing modules or projects. CK can assign modules or badges to learners to help them learn specific features or functionalities in Salesforce. Learners can access modules or badges from the Learning Home or the Guidance Center in Salesforce. Reference:
