NEW QUESTION # 12
A software engineer is integrating an application lo The cloud that is web socket based. Which of the following applications is the engineer most likely deploying?

- A. Image-sharing
- B. File transfer
- C. Data visualization

- D. Chat

Answer: D

Explanation:
A chat application is most likely to be deployed when integrating a web socket-based application to the cloud.
Web sockets provide full-duplex communication channels over a single, long-lived connection, which is ideal for real-time applications like chat services that require persistent connections between the client and server for instant data exchange.
CompTIA Cloud+ materials cover cloud networking concepts, emphasizing the importance of choosing the right technologies, like web sockets, for specific application requirements to ensure efficient and responsive cloud-based services.

NEW QUESTION # 13
A cloud deployment uses three different VPCs. The subnets on each VPC need to communicate with the others over private channels. Which of the following will achieve this objective?

- A. Establishing identical routing tables on all VPCs
- B. Creating peering connections between all VPCs
- C. Adding BGP routes using the VPCs' private IP addresses
- D. Deploying a load balancer to send traffic to the private IP addresses

Answer: B

Explanation:
To allow subnets on different VPCs to communicate with each other over private channels, the cloud engineer should create peering connections between all the VPCs. VPC Peering allows networks to connect and route traffic using private IP addresses without the need for gateways, VPN connections, or separate physical hardware. NEW QUESTION # 14
A cloud server needs to automatically allocate more resources during sudden peak times. This allocation does not need to occur in regular intervals. Which of the following scaling approaches should be used?

- A. Event
- B. Manual
- C. Scheduled
- D. Trending

Answer: A

Explanation:
Event-based scaling is designed to allocate more resources automatically in response to specific events, such as sudden peak times that are not regular or predictable. This type of scaling ensures that resources are available when needed without the need to schedule them in advance or adjust them manually.

NEW QUESTION # 15
An organization has been using an old version of an Apache Log4j software component in its critical software application. Which of the following should the organization use to calculate the severity of the risk from using this component?

- A. CVE
- B. CVSS
- C. CWE
- D. CWSS

Answer: B

Explanation:
The Common Vulnerability Scoring System (CVSS) is what the organization should use to calculate the severity of the risk from using an old version of Apache Log4j software component.

CVSS provides an open framework for communicating the characteristics and impacts of IT vulnerabilities.

NEW QUESTION # 16

A company hosts various containerized applications for business uses. A client reports that one of its routine business applications fails to load the web-based login prompt hosted in the company cloud.

INSTRUCTIONS

Click on each device and resource. Review the configurations, logs, and characteristics of each node in the architecture to diagnose the issue. Then, make the necessary changes to the WAF configuration to remediate the issue.

Web app 1

Web app 2

Web app 3

Web app 4

Client app

Answer:

Explanation:

The issue is with Web app 1 (Finance application).

From the WAF logs, we can see that requests to https://webapp1.comptia.org/FIN/login.html are being blocked (Rule ID 1006). The rule is configured to block access to the finance application's login page. This corresponds to the reported issue of the web-based login prompt not loading.

To remediate the issue, the WAF configuration for Rule ID 1006 should be changed from "Block" to "Allow". This will enable the web-based login prompt to load for the client.

Additionally, the client app configuration indicates that the client laptop (IP 192.168.10.142) is trying to access the service, and the WAF logs show that requests from this IP are being blocked due to the current rule set. Changing the action for Rule ID 1006 will also ensure that legitimate attempts to access the login page from this IP are not blocked.

Steps for remediation:

Go to the WAF configuration.

Find Rule ID 1006 for the Finance application 1.

Change the action from "Block" to "Allow".

Save the changes.

Reference:

Web application firewall (WAF) configurations typically include rules that define which traffic should be allowed or blocked.

Blocking legitimate traffic to login pages can prevent users from accessing the application, which seems to be the case here.

Client application configurations and WAF logs provide valuable insights into the source of the traffic and the rules that are affecting it. It's important to ensure that the rules align with the intended access policies for the application.
