CFA Institute Sustainable Investing Certificate (CFA-SIC) Exam Sample Questions (Q167-Q172):

NEW QUESTION # 167

Green investment is a broad sub-category of:

- A. Ethical investment.
- B. Philanthropy.
- C. Thematic investment.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Green investment focuses on funding projects and companies that contribute to environmental sustainability, such as renewable energy, carbon capture, and energy efficiency.

Why C (Thematic investment) is correct:

Thematic investing targets specific themes or trends, such as climate action, clean energy, or water conservation-all of which align with green investment.

Why not A or B?

A (Philanthropy) is incorrect-green investment seeks financial returns, whereas philanthropy is primarily donation-based.

B (Ethical investment) is broader-ethical investing includes social and governance factors, while green investment focuses specifically on environmental factors.

NEW QUESTION # 168

Investors in a natural gas power plant identified a material risk that clients will switch to lower greenhouse gas (GHG) energy sources in the future. This risk is best incorporated in the financial modeling of:

- A. revenues
- B. provisions
- C. operating expenditures

Answer: A

Explanation:

When investors in a natural gas power plant identify a material risk that clients may switch to lower greenhouse gas (GHG) energy sources in the future, this risk is best incorporated in the financial modeling of revenues.

Revenues (A): Future shifts in client preferences towards lower GHG energy sources would directly impact the revenue stream of the natural gas power plant. A decrease in demand for natural gas-generated power would lead to reduced sales and thus lower revenues. Accurately forecasting revenues under this risk scenario involves projecting reduced income due to potential client attrition and market share loss to more sustainable energy sources.

Provisions (B): Provisions are typically set aside for specific future liabilities or losses, but they are not the primary method for incorporating demand risk due to changing client preferences.

Operating expenditures (C): While operating expenditures might be affected by changes in production volume, the primary impact of clients switching to lower GHG sources would be seen in reduced revenues rather than direct changes to operating costs.

NEW QUESTION # 169

The world's first formal corporate governance code emerged in the:

- A. United Kingdom.
- B. Netherlands.
- C. United States.

Answer: A

Explanation:

The United Kingdom was the first to introduce a formal corporate governance code, known as the Cadbury Report (1992). This groundbreaking document established best practices for corporate governance, emphasizing the roles and responsibilities of boards, transparency, and accountability. It became the model for many global governance frameworks and was a direct response to financial scandals at the time.

NEW QUESTION # 170

Which of the following statements best describes the greenium?

- A. The lower yield investors accept to hold green bonds compared to conventional bonds
- B. The increased return required by investors to hold green bonds
- C. The premium paid by investors to exclude fossil fuel stocks from their portfolio

Answer: A

Explanation:

The greenium refers to the lower yield ("green premium") investors accept when purchasing green bonds, as they prioritize sustainability over purely financial returns.

- * Green bonds often trade at lower yields than conventional bonds due to high demand from ESG-conscious investors.
- * Increased return required (A) is incorrect because green bonds generally offer lower yields.
- * Excluding fossil fuels (C) is part of negative screening, not greenium.

NEW QUESTION # 171

A benefit of carbon footprinting is that:

- A. It is forward-looking
- B. It uses standardized methodologies
- C. It can aggregate emissions across geographies

Answer: C

Explanation:

Carbon footprinting allows emissions data to be aggregated across geographies, supply chains, and business units, providing a holistic view of carbon impact.

- * It is typically backward-looking rather than forward-looking (A).
- * There are multiple carbon accounting methodologies (B), but they are not always standardized.
