To prepare for the Microsoft SC-200 exam, candidates should have experience working with Microsoft security solutions, such as Microsoft Defender for Endpoint, Azure Sentinel, and Azure Security Center. Additionally, candidates should have knowledge of security operations concepts, such as security incident response, threat hunting, and security automation. Microsoft offers training courses and resources to help candidates prepare for the exam.

Why Microsoft SC-200 certification is worth it

If you are a computer expert, you need to be recommended by another person who is also certified in order to get the certification. If you have several certifications and can prove they are valid, you may qualify for an online exam that leads to an SC-200 certification. Microsoft's Security Operations Analyst Certification is only available in the USA, Canada, UK, and Singapore. This certificate proves your knowledge about security threat management, vulnerability management, and security audit management. You are given this certificate if you pass the exam with a score of at least 70%. The Security Operations Associate (SC-200) is a Microsoft Certified Technology Specialist certification that focuses on information security operations. It is not just about computer networks; it also covers disaster recovery, risk assessment, and business continuity planning. The SC-200 test is based on the job role of people involved in information security operations. They are responsible for applying security policies in the workplace and maintaining these policies through assessing vulnerabilities and managing risks.

Microsoft Security Operations Analyst Sample Questions (Q88-Q93):

NEW QUESTION # 88

You have a Microsoft 365 subscription that uses Microsoft Defender XDR.

You are investigating an attacker that is known to use the Microsoft Graph API as an attack vector. The attacker performs the tactics shown in the following table.

You need to search for malicious activities in your organization.

Which tactics can you analyze by using the MicrosoftGraphActivityLogs table?

- A. Tactic2 only
- B. Tactic2 and Tactic3 only
- C. Tactic1, Tactic2, and Tactic3
- D. Tactic1 and Tactic2 only

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 91

You have an Azure subscription that uses Microsoft Defender for Cloud.

You have a GitHub account named Account1 that contains 10 repositories.

You need to ensure that Defender for Cloud can assess the repositories in Account1.

What should you do first in the Microsoft Defender for Cloud portal?

- A. Enable a plan.
- B. Enable integrations.
- C. Add an environment.
- D. Enable security policies.

Answer: C

Explanation:

To allow Microsoft Defender for Cloud to assess GitHub repositories, you must first add GitHub as an environment in the Defender for Cloud portal.

Defender for Cloud supports connecting to external DevOps environments - including GitHub and Azure DevOps - to assess code repositories for security issues such as exposed secrets, vulnerable dependencies, or misconfigurations.

The connection process begins by selecting "Add environment" and then choosing GitHub. After authorization via OAuth to your GitHub account, Defender for Cloud scans the repositories to provide security posture assessments and recommendations.

Other options are not correct because:

* Enable security policies: Used for configuring compliance and standards within subscriptions, not external code repositories.

* Enable integrations: General connector setup, but GitHub integration specifically starts through Add environment.

* Enable a plan: Plans (e.g., Defender for Servers, Defender for App Service) control billing and coverage scope, not onboarding.

NEW QUESTION # 92

You have an Azure subscription that contains a Microsoft Sentinel workspace named WS1.

You create a hunting query that detects a new attack vector. The attack vector maps to a tactic listed in the MITRE ATT&CK database.

You need to ensure that an incident is created in WS1 when the new attack vector is detected.

What should you configure?

- A. a hunting livestream session
- B. a Fusion rule
- C. a query bookmark
- D. a scheduled query rule

Answer: D
