- A. Real Time Responde - Active Responder
- B. Real Time Response - Administrator

NEW QUESTION # 124

Which of the following is TRUE regarding disabling detections for a host?

- A. After disabling detections, the host will operate in Reduced Functionality Mode (RFM) until detections are enabled
- B. The DetectionSummaryEvent continues being sent to the Streaming API for that host
- C. After disabling detections, the data for all existing detections prior to disabling detections is removed from the Event Search
- D. The detections for that host are removed from the console immediately. No new detections will display in the console going forward unless detections are enabled

Answer: D

Explanation:

The option that is true regarding disabling detections for a host is that the detections for that host are removed from the console immediately. No new detections will display in the console going forward unless detections are enabled. This option is essentially a repetition of question 127 and its answer. Disabling detections for a host will remove any existing detections for that host from the console and prevent any new detections from appearing in the console until detections are enabled again.

NEW QUESTION # 125

How are user permissions set in Falcon?

- A. Permissions are assigned to a User Group and then users are assigned to that group, thereby inheriting those permissions
- B. Permissions are token-based. Users request access to a defined set of permissions and an administrator adds their token to the set of permissions
- C. An administrator selects individual granular permissions from the Falcon Permissions List during user creation
- D. Pre-defined permissions are assigned to sets called roles. Users can be assigned multiple roles based on job function and they assume a cumulative set of permissions based on those assignments

Answer: D

Explanation:

User permissions are set in Falcon by assigning pre-defined permissions to sets called roles.

Users can be assigned multiple roles based on job function and they assume a cumulative set of permissions based on those assignments. Roles are collections of permissions that define what users can see and do in Falcon. Permissions are granular actions that allow users to access specific features or functions in Falcon. For example, a user who is assigned both the Falcon Administrator role and the Falcon Investigator role will have all the permissions from both roles.
