CompTIA A+ Core 1 Exam (2026) Sample Questions (Q220-Q225):

NEW QUESTION # 220

A customer reports slow network speeds. Which of the following components is most likely failing?

- A. NIC
- B. HDD
- C. RAM
- D. CPU

Answer: A

Explanation:

A Network Interface Card (NIC) is the hardware responsible for network connectivity. If the NIC is failing or underperforming (e.g., due to a bad driver, hardware fault, or misconfiguration), it can cause slow or unstable network speeds.

Option A (CPU): A failing CPU affects overall system performance but not specifically network speed.

Option C (HDD): A slow hard drive causes application lag, but not poor network performance.

Option D (RAM): Affects multitasking and speed, not network throughput.

NEW QUESTION # 221

Which of the following cable types must be used when running copper network cable through a suspended ceiling that is used for air ventilation?

- A. Twisted pair
- B. Plenum
- C. Coaxial
- D. Multimode

Answer: B

Explanation:

When installing copper network cable in spaces that serve as air-handling plenums, safety regulations require the use of plenum-rated cable. Suspended ceilings used for ventilation fall into this category. CompTIA A+ emphasizes that plenum spaces require cable with low-smoke, fire-resistant insulation made from specialized materials that limit toxic emissions during combustion.

Plenum-rated cabling (CMP) is designed to meet strict fire codes such as NFPA 70 (National Electrical Code). It prevents smoke-filled ventilation pathways, which could rapidly spread fire or toxic fumes throughout a building. Standard PVC-jacketed twisted pair cables are not permitted in plenum spaces because they produce thick, toxic smoke when burned.

Multimode cable refers to fiber optics, not copper cabling. Coaxial cable is used for broadband and certain RF applications but does not inherently meet plenum safety requirements unless specifically plenum-rated. Twisted pair describes the cable's internal structure (Cat5e, Cat6, etc.), but it does not indicate the type of jacket. Only plenum-rated twisted pair is acceptable.

Therefore, the correct answer is Plenum, as it ensures compliance with safety standards and building codes, prevents hazardous conditions, and aligns with CompTIA best practices for structured cabling installations.

NEW QUESTION # 222

Which of the following servers is used to collect data and information about events from a network-connected host?

- A. Syslog
- B. DNS
- C. Mail
- D. Print

Answer: A

Explanation:

A Syslog server gathers and stores log messages and event data sent over the network from various hosts and devices, centralizing system and application logs for monitoring and analysis.

NEW QUESTION # 223

A user is having issues when charging a device with a Lightning cable. The cable is not recognized when it is plugged into the device. This issue is usually resolved by flipping the cable over. This issue does not occur with other devices of the same type. Which of the following would most likely cause the issue?

- A. The charging port is dirty or damaged
- B. The battery may be swelling and needs inspection.
- C. The device needs to be restarted.
- D. The cable is failing and needs to be replaced

Answer: A

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:

When a Lightning cable works only when flipped a certain way or doesn't function consistently, it is typically due to debris or damage in the charging port. Cleaning the port or inspecting it for wear resolves the issue.

NEW QUESTION # 224

A user routinely connects and disconnects multiple devices from a laptop. Which of the following options should a technician recommend to facilitate ease of user mobility?

- A. Serial interfaces
- B. USB hub
- C. Network switch
- D. Docking station

Answer: D

Explanation:

A docking station is designed to provide a central connection point for multiple peripherals, such as monitors, keyboards, mice, and network cables. It allows users to quickly connect or disconnect all devices by simply docking or undocking their laptop, improving mobility and reducing wear and tear on individual ports.
