BC also has a partner Experience site on Experience Cloud. The company's leadership has now decided to extend access to the customer Experience site to its partners and internal Salesforce users so they can collaborate more effectively.

What is the recommended way to add partners and internal users to the customer Experience site?

- A. Enable the partner accounts and the internal accounts as customers; the users under these accounts will then automatically gain access to the customer site.
- B. Add the existing partner profiles and internal user profiles to the customer Experience site; this will automatically give users access to the customer site.
- C. Configure SSO between the partner site and customer site so partners get access. Also configure SSO between internal org and the customer site so internal users get access to the customer site.
- D. Create business accounts for partners and internal users, enable the accounts as customers, and then create users under these accounts by creating contacts.

NEW QUESTION # 174

Ursa Major Solar would like to use three Record Detail components on a page to display object details for the Account, Case, and Opportunity objects for the user who is logged in to the company's portal. When they drop the components on the page, they are not getting the desired results.

What is causing this issue?

- A. The Record Detail component populates the recordID associated with the object for the page template, so this component will not work for this use case.
- B. The Record Detail component will only show record details for the Case object.
- C. The Record Detail component populates the record associated with the object for the page template so this component will only work on the Home page template
- D. The Record Detail component is a custom component and was not configured correctly

Answer: A

Explanation:

The reason for this issue is that the Record Detail component populates the recordID associated with the object for the page template, so this component will not work for this use case. The Record Detail component is a component that displays the fields and values of a record on your Experience Cloud site. The recordID is a unique identifier that specifies which record to display. The Record Detail component uses the recordID associated with the object for the page template, which means that it can only display one record per object per page. For example, if you have a page template for Account, you can only display one Account record on that page using the Record Detail component. To display multiple records of different objects on a page, you need to use other components, such as Related List or Record List.
