NEW QUESTION # 35

You need to connect to an external system using OAuth 2.0: SAML Bearer Assertion Flow authentication type, which requests access to an API on behalf of a signed in user.

This standard has the several steps involved with the SAML Bearer Assertion Flow.

Which two steps should you perform? (Choose two.)

- A. Upload Client Certificate to Connected System.
- B. Add required users and groups to OAuth 2.0 SAML Bearer Assertion Users system group.
- C. Create a Bearer Assertion process flow to authenticate the user.
- D. Enable the checkbox labeled OAuth 2.0: SAML Bearer Assertion Flow in the Admin Console.

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

Adding required users and groups to the OAuth 2.0 SAML Bearer Assertion Users system group ensures only authorized users can initiate the authentication flow.

Uploading a client certificate to the Connected System is needed for the assertion and secure communication required by the SAML Bearer Assertion Flow.

NEW QUESTION # 36

You need to create a read-only grid that displays support case information. Data for the support cases is mapped to the "Case" record type with data sync enabled.

Within the record, there are fields named "createdDateTime" and "resolvedDateTime". These two fields store the timestamps for when a case is created and resolved, respectively.

The grid includes a column indicating the number of hours between when the case was created and when it was resolved. This column must be sortable within the grid.

How should you calculate the hour value that will display in the column?

- A. Within the grid column, utilize an Appian function to calculate the number of hours between when the case was created and when it was resolved.
- B. Create a custom record field that evaluates at sync-time, and calculates the number of hours between when the case was created and the current date and time.
- C. Create a custom record field that evaluates in real-time, and calculates the number of hours between when the case was created and when it was resolved.

Answer: C

Explanation:

A custom record field that evaluates in real-time and calculates the hours between "createdDateTime" and "resolvedDateTime" ensures the calculated value is available as a sortable field within the read-only grid.

NEW QUESTION # 37

NEW QUESTION # 38

In reviewing the process model metrics of your application, you notice a process model with a completion rate of only 10%. What are two possible reasons for this low completion rate? (Choose two.)

- A. The process contains at least one User Input Task with no exceptions or escalations, and users do not complete the task.
- B. There are a significant number of instances that are experiencing process errors, which are not being handled by the production support team.
- C. There are a high number of smart service nodes configured in the process model.
- D. The days configured for archival or deletion is significantly higher than the other process models in your application.

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

Process errors that remain unhandled will stall instances; those instances never reach an end event, driving the completion rate down. User-input tasks without deadlines, exceptions, or escalations can sit indefinitely when users do not act, leaving instances in an active state and lowering the overall completion percentage.
