Microsoft Administering Relational Databases on Microsoft Azure Sample Questions (Q199-Q204):

NEW QUESTION # 199

You need to design a data retention solution for the Twitter feed data records. The solution must meet the customer sentiment analytics requirements.

Which Azure Storage functionality should you include in the solution?

- A. change feed
- B. lifecycle management
- C. soft delete
- D. time-based retention

Answer: B

Explanation:

The lifecycle management policy lets you:

Delete blobs, blob versions, and blob snapshots at the end of their lifecycles

NEW QUESTION # 200

Hotspot Question

You have an Azure subscription that contains an Always On availability group named AG1. AG1 contains three replicas named Server1, Server2, and Server3.

You execute the following T-SQL statements on Server1.

```
SELECT
Groups.[Name] AS 'Availability group',
Cluster.database_name AS DBName
FROM sys.dm_hadr_availability_group_states States
INNER JOIN master.sys.availability_groups Groups ON States.group_id = Groups.group_id
INNER JOIN sys.availability_databases_cluster Cluster ON Groups.group_id = Cluster.group_id
WHERE primary_replica != @@Servername
ORDER BY
Availability ASC,
DBName ASC;
```

For each of the following statements, select Yes if the statement is true, otherwise select No.

NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.

Answer Area

Statements	Yes	No
The statement will only return databases that are members of AG1.	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
The statement will return all the databases for which Server1 is the secondary replica.	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
The statement will return all the Always On availability groups for which Server3 is a secondary replica.	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

Answer:

Explanation:

Answer Area

Statements	Yes	No
The statement will only return databases that are members of AG1.	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
The statement will return all the databases for which Server1 is the secondary replica.	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>
The statement will return all the Always On availability groups for which Server3 is a secondary replica.	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>

Explanation:

Box 1: Yes

Note: sys.dm_hadr_availability_group_states (Transact-SQL)

Returns a row for each Always On availability group that possesses an availability replica on the local instance of SQL Server. Each row displays the states that define the health of a given availability group.

Box 2: Yes

We see: WHERE primary_replica != @@Servername

The @@Servername variable would be Server1 as the T-SQL statements are run on Server1.

Note: AlwaysOn Availability Groups provide high availability for groups of database by adding secondary replicas. These replicas allow failing over databases in case of a failure. In addition they can be used to offload read workloads or backup tasks.

Box 3: No

NEW QUESTION # 201

You have an Azure subscription.

You plan to deploy a new Azure virtual machine that will host a Microsoft SQL Server instance.

You need to configure the disks on the virtual machine. The solution must meet the following requirements:

- * Minimize latency for transaction logs.
- * Minimize the impact on IO Of the virtual machine.

Which type of disk should you use for each workload? To answer, drag the appropriate disk types to the correct workloads. Each disk type may be used once, at all. You may need to drag the split bar between panes or scroll to view content.

NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.

Answer:
