PMI Agile Certified Practitioner Sample Questions (Q204-Q209):

NEW QUESTION # 204
A project manager is concerned that the team has misaligned expectations with some stakeholders, and that user stories were written only from a generic user's perspective. This may lead the team to miss stories for non-generic users.
What agile tools can help the team address these issues?

- A. Information radiators and wireframes
- B. Information radiators and story maps
- C. Process flows and personas
- D. Personas and extreme characters

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 205
During a recent sprint review meeting with stakeholders, the product owner received detailed feedback indicating the critical changes needed for upgrading the legacy system to better align with the latest technologies and user needs. How should the product owner help ensure the product backlog is effectively managed, while helping the team remain focused? (Refer to the Product Backlog Exhibit)

Product Backlog:

ID	Feature	User Story (As a...I want to...)
1	Incremental Feature Delivery	Deliver upgrades and new features incrementally
2	Microservices Architecture	Break down the application into microservices for better scalability and maintainability
3	Scalability Enhancements	Improve system performance to handle increased load
4	Security Updates	Enhance system security to protect sensitive data
5	Governance and Compliance	Ensure the system meets regulatory and compliance requirements
6	Continuous Integration (CI) Continuous Deployment (CD) Pipeline Implementation	Establish a CI/CD pipeline for automated testing and deployment
7	Database Migration and Optimization	Enhance the user interface for a better user experience
8	Backward Compatibility	Maintain compatibility with existing systems and data formats
9	Stakeholder Involvement	Ensure continuous stakeholder engagement and feedback
10	Adaptability and Flexibility	Maintain adaptability in development to address changing requirements

- A. Prioritize the stakeholder feedback, considering the impact on strategic objectives and current workload, and discuss these priorities with the team in the next sprint planning meeting to collaboratively decide on the next steps.
- B. Update the product backlog immediately without consulting the team, ensuring that the most critical feedback is addressed as soon as possible, even if it disrupts the current workflow
- C. Implement the changes in the current sprint, reallocating resources and adjusting the sprint goals to accommodate the feedback immediately, regardless of the current workload and potential impact on ongoing tasks.
- D. Disregard the feedback until the next product release, focusing solely on the current sprint commitments to avoid any disruption and maintain the current workflow, even if it means delaying potentially valuable changes.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 206
Which of the following is NOT a characteristic of an Adaptive PMLC Model?
