BCS ISTQB Certified Tester Advanced Level - Test Management v3.0 Sample Questions (Q28-Q33):

NEW QUESTION # 28

You are the only tester in an Agile team. The test policy states that only defects that need to be solved outside the team are documented. You are receiving complaints from developers from other teams that they do not receive sufficient defect information to be able to efficiently and effectively solve the defects. You have used the ISO 29119 standard to identify which attributes could be added to the current defect report template.

Which two of the following options would be best to add to the current defect report template to solve the current issue?

- A. Test level where the defect was found
- B. Severity of the defect
- C. Configuration in which the defect was found
- D. The name of the tester that found the defect
- E. How to reproduce the defect

Answer: C,E

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract of ISTQB Certified Tester Advanced Level - Test Manager v3.0 syllabus:

In the Testing Process (defect management and reporting), the syllabus emphasizes that defect reports must contain sufficient information to allow effective reproduction and diagnosis and that they should include environment/configuration details relevant to reproducing the failure and isolating the underlying defect. Concretely, the syllabus highlights information such as steps to reproduce, observed and expected results, and test environment/configuration as essential elements to enable teams (especially external teams) to analyze and fix defects efficiently. Therefore, adding How to reproduce the defect (B) and the Configuration in which the defect was found (E) most directly addresses the complaint of insufficient information for external developers. (ISTQB CTAL-TM v3.0 - Chapter "Testing Process": defect reporting content and quality; importance of reproducibility and environment details in defect reports.)

NEW QUESTION # 29

You are a process improver and have decided to use the data from the defect management system to identify and drive improvement actions... Which of the following options could have been identified as missing from the defect reports to be used for process improvement?

- A. Steps to reproduce the failure, along with the actual and expected results
- B. The status of the defect
- C. The priority to fix the problem
- D. The software lifecycle phase in which the defect was detected

Answer: D

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract of ISTQB Certified Tester Advanced Level - Test Manager v3.0 syllabus:

For process improvement and root-cause analysis, the syllabus highlights the value of defect origin and detection phase data to evaluate where defects are injected and where they are detected, calculate removal effectiveness, and focus improvements (e.g., earlier-phase prevention or reviews). The lifecycle phase detected enables meaningful analysis of phase containment, trends, and improvement targets; the other fields are useful operationally but less pivotal for organizational/process improvement analytics (Chapter 2: Test Management in the Organization - improvement approaches using defect data; Chapter 5: Reporting and analysis of defect trends).

NEW QUESTION # 30

The following defect management process is in use at a company... What is the most important recommendation you would make for the defect report template in this process?

- A. Automate the incident numbering
- B. Add a lifecycle phase field to document when the defect is found
- C. Add a priority field to show how quickly it needs fixing
- D. Add a classification field for the type of incident

Answer: C

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract of ISTQB Certified Tester Advanced Level - Test Manager v3.0 syllabus:

For effective defect management and control, the report needs information that supports prioritization and scheduling of fixes. The syllabus emphasizes fields such as priority/severity, status, environment, and reproducibility to support planning, monitoring, and control decisions. In the described process, adding priority is most critical to drive timely assignment and fixing order (Chapter 5: Test Monitoring, Control, and Reporting - defect reporting to support control; Chapter 3: Test Planning - using priorities to allocate effort).

NEW QUESTION # 31

For which type of testing would a test manager be involved with establishing benchmarks?

- A. Functional Testing
- B. White-box Testing
- C. Testing Black-box
- D. Non-Functional Testing

Answer: D

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract of ISTQB Certified Tester Advanced Level - Test Manager v3.0 syllabus:

Within Test Planning (Chapter: Test Planning, Monitoring, and Control), the syllabus describes that the test manager defines the test approach for non-functional quality characteristics (e.g., performance, load, scalability, reliability). For these, the test manager often sets or references benchmarks/baselines and success criteria (e.g., response-time thresholds, throughput targets) to evaluate system behavior under specified conditions. Establishing and using benchmarks is a hallmark of non-functional testing, particularly performance testing.

(Reference: CTAL-TM v3.0 Syllabus - Chapter "Test Planning, Monitoring, and Control", subsections on defining the test approach for non-functional testing and specifying success criteria/benchmarks.)

NEW QUESTION # 32

Factors that are important to take into account when performing test estimation include:

- i. The quality of the test basis
- ii. The availability of test automation
- iii. The amount of rework required
- iv. The distribution of testing across several locations

The various factors can be grouped by characteristic. Examples of characteristics include:

- A. A = iv, B = iii, C = ii, D = i
- B. Test results
- C. Test context
- D. A = ii, B = iii, C = iv, D = i
- E. Development process Which factor is related to which characteristic?
- F. A = i, B = ii, C = iii, D = iv
- G. A = iv, B = iii, C = i, D = ii
- H. Product

Answer: B

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract of ISTQB Certified Tester Advanced Level - Test Manager v3.0 syllabus:

Product characteristic # quality of the test basis (C = i): The syllabus lists the quality and stability of the requirements/specifications (test basis) as a product-related estimation driver.

Test results characteristic # amount of rework (B = iii): Expected rework/defect-fix cycles and their impact on retesting and confirmation testing are identified through past results/defect patterns and directly affect estimates.

Test context characteristic # distribution across locations (A = iv): Organizational and logistical context (multiple sites, time zones, communication overhead) influences test effort.

Development process characteristic # availability of test automation (D = ii): Process/tooling capability (e.g., presence of automation frameworks) is treated as a development/process factor affecting test efficiency and thus estimation. The syllabus groups estimation drivers into characteristics such as product, development process, test results/history, and test/organizational context, and recommends mapping specific factors to these groups to structure estimation.
