CompTIA A+ Certification Exam: Core 2 Sample Questions (Q133-Q138):

NEW QUESTION # 133
A user connected an external hard drive but is unable to see it as a destination to save files. Which of the following tools will allow the drive to be formatted?

- A. Disk Defragmenter
- B. Device Manager
- C. Disk Cleanup
- D. Disk Management

Answer: D

Explanation:
Disk Management is a tool that allows users to create, format, delete, shrink, extend, and manage partitions on hard drives. If the external hard drive is not formatted or has an incompatible filesystem type, Disk Management can be used to format it with a supported filesystem type such as NTFS, FAT32, or exFAT. Device Manager, Disk Cleanup, and Disk Defragmenter are not tools that can format a hard drive.

NEW QUESTION # 134
A network administrator is deploying a client certificate to be used for Wi-Fi access for all devices in an organization. The certificate will be used in conjunction with the user's existing username and password. Which of the following BEST describes the security benefits realized after this deployment?

- A. Rogue access points will not connect.
- B. Multifactor authentication will be forced for Wi-Fi.
- C. Eavesdropping attempts will be prevented.
- D. All Wi-Fi traffic will be encrypted in transit.

Answer: D

Explanation:
The security benefits realized after deploying a client certificate to be used for Wi-Fi access for all devices in an organization are that all Wi-Fi traffic will be encrypted in transit. This means that any data transmitted over the Wi-Fi network will be protected from eavesdropping attempts. Rogue access points will not connect to the network because they will not have the client certificate. However, multifactor authentication will not be forced for Wi-Fi because the client certificate is being used in conjunction with the user's existing username and password12

NEW QUESTION # 135
A user is attempting to browse the internet using Internet Explorer. When trying to load a familiar web page, the user is unexpectedly redirected to an unfamiliar website. Which of the following would MOST likely solve the issue?

- A. Enabling port forwarding
- B. Changing proxy settings
- C. Reinstalling the browser
- D. Updating the operating system

Answer: C

Explanation:
Reinstalling the browser would most likely solve the issue. This would remove any malicious software or add-ons that may be causing the issue and restore the browser to its default settings.

NEW QUESTION # 136

An Internet café has several computers available for public use. Recently, users have reported the computers are much slower than they were the previous week. A technician finds the CPU is at 100% utilization, and antivirus scans report no current infection. Which of the following is MOST likely causing the issue?

- A. Spyware is redirecting browser searches.
- B. A keylogger is capturing user passwords.
- C. Files were damaged from a cleaned virus infection.
- D. A cryptominer is verifying transactions.

Answer: D

Explanation:
A cryptominer is a malicious program that uses the CPU resources of a computer to generate cryptocurrency, such as Bitcoin or Ethereum. This can cause the CPU to run at 100% utilization and slow down the system.
Spyware, virus and keylogger are other types of malware, but they do not necessarily cause high CPU usage.

NEW QUESTION # 137

A technician is setting up a network printer for a customer who has a SOHO router. The technician wants to make sure the printer stays connected in the future and is available on all the computers in the house. Which of the following should the technician configure on the printer?

- A. Metered connection
- B. DNS settings
- C. Static IP
- D. WWAN

Answer: C

Explanation:
Configuring a static IP address for a network printer in a SOHO (Small Office/Home Office) environment ensures that the printer maintains the same IP address over time. This consistency is crucial for networked devices like printers, as computers and other devices rely on this specific address to connect to the printer. If the printer's IP address were to change (as it might with DHCP), devices would no longer be able to communicate with it without reconfiguration.
Static IP:Assigning a static IP address to the printer ensures it always uses the same IP, making it reliably accessible to all computers in the house regardless of network changes or router reboots.
DNS settings (A) are generally not necessary to configure directly on most network printers unless you're dealing with advanced network configurations or using the printer for scanning to email functions. WWAN (C) stands for Wireless Wide Area Network, which is not typically relevant for a standard network printer setup in a home or small office. Metered connection (D) is a Windows feature that helps reduce data usage on a connection, it's not relevant to configuring a printer's network settings.
