NEW QUESTION # 235

During which of the following PI Planning activities does Product Management introduce the prioritized Features to the teams for planning?

- A. The draft plan review
- B. The Management Review and Problem-Solving workshop
- C. The business context presentation
- D. The Product/Solution Vision presentation

Answer: D

Explanation:

The Product/Solution Vision presentation is the PI Planning activity where Product Management introduces the prioritized Features to the teams for planning. This presentation provides the teams with a clear and compelling vision of the expected outcomes and benefits of the upcoming PI. It also includes the top Features and Capabilities that are needed to realize the vision, along with their priorities and dependencies. The teams use this information to plan their Iteration goals and PI objectives, as well as to identify risks and issues that may affect their delivery. NEW QUESTION # 236

According to SAFe, a Feature should be sized to fit into what duration?

- A. One month
- B. One Iteration
- C. One year
- D. One PI

Answer: D

Explanation:

= According to SAFe, a Feature should be sized to fit into one Program Increment (PI), which is a timebox of 8 to 12 weeks, typically consisting of 4 to 6 iterations1. A Feature is a service provided by the system that fulfills some important stakeholder needs and delivers business value2. A Feature should be small enough to be completed by a single Agile Release Train (ART) within a PI, but large enough to provide significant and measurable value3. A Feature should also be testable, demonstrable, and deployable4. References: = 1:

NEW QUESTION # 237

James is a Product Owner. It is day seven of the Iteration and his team tells him that they may miss their Iteration commitment. What should James do?

- A. Support adding an Innovation and Planning Iteration directly after the current Iteration
- B. Ensure the Iteration backlog is accurately prioritized
- C. Support splitting a Story into a coding story and a testing story, and then moving the testing story into the next Iteration
- D. Agree to add a person from the System Team to complete the work

Answer: B

Explanation:

= As a Product Owner, James is responsible for managing the Iteration backlog and ensuring that the most valuable and feasible work items are delivered by the team1. If the team tells him that they may miss their Iteration commitment, James should collaborate with them to review and reprioritize the backlog, and identify the minimum viable increment that can be completed within the Iteration timebox2. James should not support adding an Innovation and Planning Iteration, as this would disrupt the cadence and synchronization of the Agile Release Train³. James should not agree to add a person from the System Team, as this would violate the team autonomy and self-organization principles⁴. James should not support splitting a Story into a coding story and a testing story, as this would create technical debt and compromise the quality and value of the deliverable⁵. NEW QUESTION # 238

What is one of the Product Owner's responsibilities?

- A. To facilitate team meetings and drive Agile behavior
- B. To foster normalized estimating within the team
- C. To foster adoption of Agile technical practices
- D. To manage and prioritize the Team Backlog

Answer: D

Explanation:

The Product Owner (PO) in the team is responsible for managing and prioritizing the Team Backlog, which is the single source of truth for the upcoming features of the system¹. The PO works with the Product Manager, who owns the Vision and the Roadmap, to define and sequence the features in the Program Backlog². The PO also collaborates with other POs in the Agile Release Train (ART) to manage dependencies and ensure alignment across teams³. The PO maintains and prioritizes the Team Backlog, which contains user stories, enablers, and other backlog items that the team needs to implement to deliver value to the customer⁴. The PO also participates in the backlog refinement sessions, where the team defines, discusses, estimates, and establishes acceptance criteria for the backlog items. NEW QUESTION # 239

Why is it important to spend time "in the zone"?

- A. To maximize ideal productivity time
- B. To make work in process visible
- C. To refine productive collaboration
- D. To reduce queue lengths

Answer: A

Explanation:

Spending time "in the zone" means being fully immersed in a task that is challenging, engaging, and enjoyable. This state of flow is associated with higher levels of creativity, innovation, and performance¹. According to SAFe, optimizing the time spent in the zone for individuals and teams makes a substantial difference in ART productivity². The other options are not directly related to the concept of flow, although they may be influenced by it. Reducing queue lengths, refining productive collaboration, and making work in process visible are all aspects of visualizing and limiting WIP, which is another flow accelerator³.
