NCLEX National Council Licensure Examination(NCLEX-RN) Sample Questions (Q587-Q592):

NEW QUESTION # 587

A client has received preoperative teaching for the vertical partial laryngectomy that he is scheduled to have in the morning. The nurse determines that the teaching has been effective when the client states:

- A. "I may also have to have a radical neck dissection done."
- B. "The quality of my voice will be excellent after surgery."
- C. "I will have very little difficulty swallowing after surgery."
- D. "I know I will need special swallowing training after my surgery."

Answer: C

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference:

Explanation:

(A) A client with a supraglottic (horizontal partial) laryngectomy would require special swallowing training, not a vertical partial laryngectomy. (B) The quality of the client's voice will be altered but adequate for communication. (C) The client will have minimal difficulty swallowing. (D) A radical neck dissection may be done with a total laryngectomy, but not with a partial laryngectomy.

NEW QUESTION # 588

The nurse is caring for a 3-month-old girl with meningitis. She has a positive Kernig's sign. The nurse expects her to react to discomfort if she:

- A. Flexes her spine
- B. Turns her head to the side
- C. Dorsiflexes her ankle
- D. Plantiflexes her wrist

Answer: A

Explanation:

(A) Discomfort with ankle dorsiflexion is not expected with meningitis. (B) Spinal flexion, flexing the neck or the hips with legs extended, causes discomfort if the meninges are irritated. (C) Discomfort with wrist flexion is not expected with meningitis. (D) Rotating the cervical spine may cause discomfort with meningitis, but pain with flexion is more indicative of meningeal irritation.

NEW QUESTION # 589

A male client tells his nurse that he has had an ulcer in the past and is afraid it is "flaring up again." The nurse begins to ask him specific questions about his symptoms. The nurse knows that a symptom that might indicate a serious complication of an ulcer is:

- A. Melena
- B. Pain in the middle of the night
- C. A bowel movement every 3-5 days
- D. Episodes of nausea and vomiting

Answer: A

Explanation:

(A) Clients with ulcers generally experience abdominal pain. It is common to have pain in the early morning hours with an ulcer. (B) Constipation is not a symptom associated with ulcers and would indicate a need to look at other factors. (C) Melena is blood in the stools. This could indicate a slow bleeding ulcer, which could result in significant amounts of blood loss over time. (D) Nausea and vomiting may be present as a result of the ulcer, especially if it is a gastric ulcer. This does not indicate an immediate life-threatening complication.

NEW QUESTION # 590

A client diagnosed with severe anemia is to receive 2 U of packed red blood cells. Prior to starting the blood transfusion, the nurse must:

- A. Have the registered nurse in charge assume responsibility for verifying the client and blood product information
- B. Hang Ringer's lactate as the companion fluid
- C. Take a baseline set of vital signs
- D. Use microdrip tubing for the blood administration

Answer: C

Explanation:

Section: Questions Set D

Explanation:

(A) A baseline set of vital signs is necessary to determine if any transfusion reactions occur as the blood product is being administered. (B) The only companion fluid to be used during a blood transfusion is normal saline. The calcium in Ringer's lactate can cause clotting. (C) Only a blood administration set should be used.

A microdrip tube would cause lysis of the red blood cells. (D) Proper identification of the recipient and the blood product must be validated by at least two people.

NEW QUESTION # 591

A child receiving chemotherapeutic drugs experiences a loss of appetite directly related to the therapy. Which of the following strategies should be most effective in encouraging the child to eat?

- A. Provide a well-balanced diet at usual times, and restrict dessert if the child fails to eat well.
- B. Offer the child smaller meals more frequently than usual, and include as many of her favorite foods as possible.
- C. Schedule procedures immediately after eating so that the child will not be tired or in pain at mealtime.
- D. Offer the child a diet with a wider variety of foods and with more seasoning than her usual diet.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Explanation:

(A) Because the child's appetite is capricious at best, regular servings may be overwhelming. Praise the child for what is eaten. (B) The child will soon learn that procedures follow meals and may play with food rather than eat it to avoid or delay the procedure. (C) Young children usually do not like highly seasoned foods and may need the security of usual foods. Such a change may actually increase anorexia. (D) Small servings appear more achievable to the child, and the inclusion of favorite foods can add a sense of security.
