Apple Deployment and Management Exam Sample Questions (Q49-Q54):

NEW QUESTION # 49
You're linking to an MDM server in Apple Business Manager or Apple School Manager. What must you download from your MDM solution to generate a server token?

- A. Private key
- B. MDM Intermediate Certificate
- C. Public key
- D. Content token

Answer: C

Explanation:
To establish a secure trust relationship between Apple Business Manager (ABM) and an MDM solution, Apple requires the use of server tokens. The process begins in the MDM console, where an administrator downloads a public key generated by the MDM. This public key is then uploaded into ABM or ASM. Apple signs the key and provides a server token, which is then downloaded from ABM and uploaded back into the MDM solution.
The server token authorizes the MDM to sync and manage purchased apps, books, and device assignments.
Apple Learning stresses that the public key is the only element required from the MDM during this process.
Private keys remain within the MDM, and content tokens are unrelated to this operation. This ensures both security and proper license synchronization.

NEW QUESTION # 50
Where are bypass codes for Apple devices stored when you use organization-linked Activation Lock?

- A. In the user's Managed Apple Account
- B. In the MDM solution
- C. In Apple Business Manager or Apple School Manager
- D. In the user's personal Apple Account

Answer: B

Explanation:
Bypass codes are stored in MDM for organization-linked Activation Lock. The Apple Platform Deployment Guide states, "Bypass codes for organization-linked Activation Lock are stored in the MDM solution, allowing administrators to unlock devices without user credentials." References:

Apple Platform Deployment Guide, "Activation Lock" section.
Mobile Device Management Protocol Reference, "Activation Lock Management" section.

NEW QUESTION # 51

Which type of network uses individual user credentials or device- and/or user-based certificates to control who or which devices can use the network?

- A. WPA2 Enterprise network
- B. Provisioning network
- C. WPA2 Personal network

Answer: A

Explanation:
WPA2 Enterprise networks utilize individual user credentials (e.g., username and password) or device- and/or user-based certificates for authentication, typically via protocols like EAP-TLS or PEAP, integrated with a RADIUS server. This provides granular control over network access, ideal for organizational settings. A provisioning network (option A) is a temporary network for device setup, not a security standard. WPA2 Personal (option B) uses a shared passphrase, lacking individual authentication. The Apple Platform Deployment Guide specifies WPA2 Enterprise for secure, user-specific network access in managed environments.

NEW QUESTION # 52

What provides a consistent set of management tools for Apple devices to all MDM vendors?

- A. Managed service configuration files
- B. Automated Device Enrollment
- C. Apple Push Notification service
- D. Apple's MDM framework

Answer: D

Explanation:
Apple's MDM framework standardizes tools. TheMobile Device Management Protocol Referencestates,
"Apple's MDM framework provides a consistent set of APIs and management tools that all MDM vendors use to manage Apple devices." Option D supports communication, not tools.
References:
Mobile Device Management Protocol Reference, "Overview" section.
Apple Platform Deployment Guide, "MDM Framework" section.

NEW QUESTION # 53

Which type of enrollment do you commonly use for BYOD deployments?

- A. Device
- B. Automated device
- C. User

Answer: C

Explanation:
For Bring Your Own Device (BYOD) deployments, User Enrollment is the commonly used method. It allows users to enroll their personal devices in an MDM solution via a customized URL or portal, maintaining a separation between personal and managed data. Device Enrollment (option A) is typically for organization-owned devices, requiring more control than BYOD allows. Automated Device Enrollment (option C) is for organization-owned devices pre-registered with Apple, not BYOD. The Apple Platform Deployment Guide specifies User Enrollment as the standard for BYOD.
