NEW QUESTION # 214
The production plan defines which of the following targets?

- A. Business plans for the company
- B. Level of output to be produced
- C. Sales forecast
- D. Quantities of each product to be produced

Answer: B

Explanation:
The production plan is a high-level plan that defines the level of output to be produced for each product family or group in a given time period. It is based on the sales forecast, the aggregate production capacity, and the desired inventory levels. The production plan does not specify the quantities of each individual product to be produced, as this is done in the master production schedule. The production plan also does not include the sales forecast or the business plans for the company, as these are inputs to the production plan, not outputs12 References:

NEW QUESTION # 215
For a process that is outside its upper control limit (UCL), which of the following techniques would best be used to return the process under control?

- A. Conduct a Pareto analysis
- B. Plan-do-check-action (PDCA)
- C. Monitor control charts
- D. Plot histograms

Answer: B

Explanation:
Plan-do-check-action (PDCA) is a technique that would best be used to return a process under control when it is outside its upper control limit (UCL). PDCA is a four-step cycle of continuous improvement that involves planning a change, implementing the change, checking the results, and acting on the findings. PDCA can help identify and eliminate the root causes of variation, improve the process performance, and prevent the recurrence of problems. PDCA is also known as the Deming cycle or the Shewhart cycle.

In a make-to-order (MTO) production environment, fluctuations in sales volumes are managed by adjustments to the:

- A. Minimum order quantity (MOQ)

- B. Customer order backlog

Answer: B
