ISQI IREB Certified Professional for Requirements Engineering. Foundation Level Sample Questions (Q26-Q31):

NEW QUESTION # 26

A company needs to select a tool to support its Requirements Engineering process. Which statements do NOT apply to this selection process? (Select 3 answers.)

- A. The tool should be adaptable enough to support the current RE process.
- B. The decision on which tool to use should be made solely by its end users.
- C. The selection should not be influenced by existing tools in the company.
- D. The tool must include functionality for requirements modeling.

Answer: B,C,D

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:

Tool selection should consider multiple perspectives: process fit, IT architecture, organizational constraints, management, and end users. While end-user feedback is important, they alone should not make the decision; management and architecture perspectives are also crucial, so B does not apply. Modeling features may be desirable, but are not mandatory for all RE tools-for example, a traceability or repository tool may be chosen without modeling capabilities-so C is not a universal requirement. Existing tools and infrastructure matter:

integration, interfaces and licensing significantly affect feasibility, making D incorrect. A accurately describes a process-fit criterion.

NEW QUESTION # 27

Which of the following options best fits the concept of a baseline?

- A. An approved configuration of requirements.
- B. A specific version of a requirement.
- C. An approved configuration of a single requirement.
- D. A draft version of a requirements specification that has not yet been released.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 28

The template "The <system name> shall <system response>" is suited for:

- A. Event-driven requirements
- B. Ubiquitous requirements
- C. State-driven requirements
- D. Unwanted behaviour

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 29

The implementation of traceability offers many benefits for RE. Which of the following benefits would be the LEAST applicable?

- A. It helps to produce verifiable requirements.
- B. It helps when trying to find where a requirement came from.
- C. It helps to analyze the impacts of change in requirements.
- D. It helps to produce unambiguous requirements.

Answer: A,D

NEW QUESTION # 30

A specification is traceable if..

- A. Its requirements are linked to their origins, to their implementation and to other dependent requirements.
- B. Its requirements adhere to mandatory structuring or formatting guidelines.
- C. Its requirements reflect the genuine and agreed-upon needs of stakeholders.
- D. It falls within the relevant system scope, contributing to at least one stakeholder goal.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:

Traceability is defined as the ability to follow the life of a requirement in both directions—from its sources to its realization and across related requirements. A traceable specification links each requirement to origin (stakeholder, document), to design and implementation artifacts, and to test cases or other dependent requirements. Option A describes the "necessary" criterion; B corresponds to "adequate"; C refers to "conformant". Only D accurately captures the meaning of traceability for a specification.
