CWNP Certified Wireless Analysis Professional Sample Questions (Q113-Q118):

NEW QUESTION # 113
What is the difference between a Data frame and a QoS-Data frame?

- A. QoS Data frames include an 802.1Q VLAN tag
- B. QoS Data frames include a DSCP control field
- C. QoS Data frames include a QoS control field
- D. QoS Data frames include a QoS information element

Answer: C

Explanation:
The difference between a Data frame and a QoS-Data frame is that QoS Data frames include a QoS control field. A Data frame is a type of data frame that is used to carry user data or upper layer protocol data between STAs and APs. A QoS Data frame is a type of data frame that is used to carry user data or upper layer protocol data between STAs and APs that support QoS (Quality of Service) features. QoS features allow different types of traffic to be prioritized and handled differently according to their QoS requirements, such as delay, jitter, throughput, etc. QoS Data frames include a QoS control field in their MAC header, which contains information such as traffic identifier (TID), queue size (TXOP), acknowledgment policy (ACK), etc., that are used for QoS purposes. The other options are not correct, as they do not describe the difference between Data and QoS Data frames. QoS Data frames do not include a DSCP (Differentiated Services Code Point) control field, which is part of the IP header in the network layer, not the MAC header in the data link layer. QoS Data frames do not include a QoS information element (IE), which is part of some management frames that indicate QoS capabilities or parameters, not data frames. QoS Data frames do not include an 802.1 Q VLAN tag, which is part of some Ethernet frames that indicate VLAN membership or priority, not wireless frames. NEW QUESTION # 114
Which one of the following portions of information is communicated by bits in the PHY Header?

- A. Signal strength
- B. SNR
- C. Noise
- D. Data rate

Answer: D

Explanation:
One of the information that is communicated by bits in the PHY header is data rate. Data rate is the speed at which data is transmitted or received over the wireless medium. Data rate depends on factors such as modulation, coding, channel width, spatial streams, and guard interval. Data rate is indicated by bits in different fields of the PHY header, depending on the type of PPDU (e.g., OFDM, HT, VHT, HE). The receiver uses these bits to determine how to decode and demodulate the rest of the PPDU. The other options are not correct, as they are not communicated by bits in the PHY header. SNR (Signal-to-Noise Ratio), noise, and signal strength are measured by the receiver based on its own capabilities and environment. - B. There is 80 milliseconds more delay than recommended
- C. There is no extra delay beyond that recommended, instead there is 80 milliseconds less
