Questions (Q33-Q38):

NEW QUESTION # 33

When is it appropriate to rely on Clipboard AI inside Autopilot for Everyone for a copy-and-paste task?

- A. Whenever you need to paste any content regardless of operating system, file type, or the number of pastes.
- B. When you are using macOS and want Autopilot for Everyone to perform a copy and paste on a Linux VM.
- C. When you plan to paste several different tables in succession during the same chat and expect Autopilot for Everyone to queue each paste automatically.
- D. When you are working on a Windows machine and need to perform a single AI-powered paste of a table (for example, from a PDF) into another application directly from the chat interface.

Answer: D

Explanation:

C is correct - Clipboard AI, as embedded inside Autopilot for Everyone, is optimized for Windows environments, particularly when performing structured copy-and-paste operations, such as extracting tables from a PDF and transferring them to Excel, Word, or web forms.

Best-use scenario:

- * You copy structured data (like a table or text block)
 - * Paste it once into the Autopilot chat window
 - * Ask Autopilot to "paste this into [target app] in a structured format"
 - * It leverages Clipboard AI's logic to map and format the content intelligently
- Option A is incorrect - Autopilot doesn't queue multiple pastes. Each interaction is scoped.

B overstates platform independence - current support is Windows-first.

D is incorrect - Clipboard AI does not support macOS or cross-VM pasting yet.

This capability helps non-technical users automate repetitive copy-paste actions, improving speed, accuracy, and structure when transferring information across applications.

NEW QUESTION # 34

What configuration options are available for setting up Context Grounding in UiPath?

- A. Context Grounding requires default settings without any options for index creation or LLM selection.
- B. Context Grounding setup relies entirely on manual indexing and lacks automated sync capabilities.
- C. Configuration is limited to enabling Context Grounding without any integration with Orchestrator or folder permissions.
- D. You can configure Context Grounding by creating indexes in Orchestrator, managing folder-level permissions, selecting an LLM from the LLM Gateway, and syncing data using the Update Context Grounding Index activity.

Answer: D

Explanation:

B is correct - UiPath provides end-to-end configuration capabilities for Context Grounding, including:

- * Creating indexes in Orchestrator
 - * Controlling access via folder-level permissions
 - * Selecting LLMs from the LLM Gateway
 - * Keeping indexes up to date using the Update Context Grounding Index activity
- This allows agents to access real-time enterprise context, reducing hallucinations and enhancing accuracy when performing actions or generating responses.

Option A underestimates the feature scope.

C and D are incorrect - UiPath supports automated syncs, granular access control, and multi-model compatibility.

UiPath's platform treats grounding as a governed, scalable enterprise feature, critical for AI safety and relevance.

NEW QUESTION # 35

When would it be most appropriate to use Web Search instead of Web Reader in an agent workflow?

- A. When extracting time-sensitive data from a secure internal system.
- B. When the user needs a summarized overview from multiple public sources without a specific URL.
- C. When accessing and filtering information already embedded within a private enterprise knowledge base.
- D. When detailed, structured data is required from a known supplier's webpage.

Answer: B

Explanation:

C is correct - use Web Search in an agent workflow when you need the LLM to query public internet sources (e.g., news, pricing, documentation), but don't have a specific URL.

UiPath Autopilot and Agentic Agents distinguish:

- * Web Search: For open-ended discovery from the web (e.g., "find latest refund policies from airlines")
- * Web Reader: For extracting or summarizing content from a specific, known URL or internal portal. Web Search is ideal for:
 - * Aggregating public info
 - * Real-time summaries
 - * Context retrieval for grounding the prompt

A and B involve internal sources - use tools like Knowledge Retrieval or API connectors instead.

D calls for targeted extraction, better suited to Web Reader with structured parsing.

NEW QUESTION # 36

What is the primary role of guardrails in tools?

- A. Guardrails are designed to apply only after tool execution, without influencing pre-execution conditions.
- B. Guardrails only validate tool inputs during development and do not address unpredictable behaviors at runtime.
- C. Guardrails are used exclusively to automate all tool corrections without the possibility of triggering human intervention.
- D. Guardrails control unexpected behaviors within tool calls deterministically, allowing developers to configure conditions for human intervention and escalations.

Answer: D

Explanation:

B is correct - in UiPath's agent framework, guardrails play a critical role in controlling tool behavior and decision outcomes during agent execution. Specifically, guardrails enable developers to handle edge cases and define conditions under which:

- * The agent should escalate to a human
- * A tool should be skipped, modified, or retried
- * Output should be checked against validation rules

Guardrails work deterministically, meaning they are rule-based conditions applied before, during, or after a tool runs - depending on the configuration. This allows for predictable and governed responses, such as:

"If tool output confidence is below 70%, escalate the task to Action Center." Option A is incorrect because guardrails can and often do trigger human intervention.

Option C is false - guardrails can influence pre-execution, such as preventing tool calls under certain input conditions.

Option D downplays runtime functionality - guardrails are especially powerful during execution to protect against invalid results, failed API calls, or LLM drift.

UiPath promotes the use of guardrails to ensure safe, accurate, and context-aware agent behavior, especially in regulated or sensitive environments.

NEW QUESTION # 37

In which scenario is a deterministic evaluation more appropriate than a model-graded one?

- A. When the correct output is known and fixed.
- B. When evaluating the tone and helpfulness of agent responses.
- C. When the response quality depends on user satisfaction.
- D. When open-ended reasoning needs to be scored.

Answer: A

Explanation:

C is correct - deterministic evaluations are best suited for cases where the correct output is known and fixed, allowing for binary or rule-based validation.

Examples include:

- * Exact matches (e.g., status: "Approved")
- * Regex pattern checks
- * Structured JSON outputs
- * Correct field extraction (e.g., invoice number = INV-2023-0021)

UiPath supports deterministic evaluation using logic like:

- * "Output equals Expected"
- * "Contains X and Y"
- * "JSON schema is valid"

This is distinct from model-graded evaluations, which are used when outputs are open-ended or qualitative (e.g., summarization, sentiment, tone). These require LLM-based grading to assess whether the output is "good enough" even if it varies slightly.

Option A and B refer to subjective assessments better suited for model-graded scoring.

D implies feedback-driven quality, again requiring flexible interpretation, not deterministic checking.

Deterministic methods offer speed, clarity, and automation in validation - ideal for tasks where there's only one right answer.
