You need to ensure that you can audit access to Personally Identifiable information (PII).
What should you include in the solution?

- A. row-level security (RLS)
- B. dynamic data masking
- C. column-level security
- D. sensitivity classifications

Answer: D

Explanation:
Data Discovery & Classification is built into Azure SQL Database, Azure SQL Managed Instance, and Azure Synapse Analytics. It provides basic capabilities for discovering, classifying, labeling, and reporting the sensitive data in your databases.
Your most sensitive data might include business, financial, healthcare, or personal information. Discovering and classifying this data can play a pivotal role in your organization's information-protection approach. It can serve as infrastructure for:
Helping to meet standards for data privacy and requirements for regulatory compliance.
Various security scenarios, such as monitoring (auditing) access to sensitive data.
Controlling access to and hardening the security of databases that contain highly sensitive data.

You create a table by using the Transact-SQL statement shown in the following exhibit.
Use the drop-down menus to select the answer choice that completes each statement based on the information presented in the graphic.
NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.

Answer:

Explanation:
Explanation:
Box 1: Type 2
A Type 2 SCD supports versioning of dimension members. Often the source system doesn't store versions, so the data warehouse load process detects and manages changes in a dimension table. In this case, the dimension table must use a surrogate key to provide a unique reference to a version of the dimension member.
It also includes columns that define the date range validity of the version (for example, StartDate and EndDate) and possibly a flag column (for example, IsCurrent) to easily filter by current dimension members.
