DASCA Senior Data Scientist Sample Questions (Q18-Q23):

NEW QUESTION # 18

Image files can be broken down into two broad categories:

- i. Rasterized
- ii. Vectorized
- iii. Sectorized

- A. None of the above
- B. i, ii
- C. i, iii
- D. ii, iii

Answer: B

Explanation:

Images are broadly categorized based on how they store visual information:

Rasterized images (Option i):

Composed of a grid of pixels (bitmap).

Each pixel has color information.

Examples: JPEG, PNG, BMP.

Best for photos or complex visuals.

Vectorized images (Option ii):

Composed of paths defined by mathematical formulas.

Scalable without quality loss.

NEW QUESTION # 19

Which of the following is NOT a part of Internal Process Optimization?

- A. None of the above
- B. Business Metamorphosis
- C. Business Optimization
- D. Business Insights
- E. Business Monitoring

Answer: B

Explanation:

Internal Process Optimization (IPO) is one of the core applications of data science in business operations. It focuses on improving internal efficiency, reducing costs, and enhancing productivity using data-driven insights.

Typical components of IPO include:

Business Monitoring (Option A): Tracking performance metrics and KPIs in real time.

Business Insights (Option C): Identifying trends, anomalies, and inefficiencies through analytics.

Business Optimization (Option D): Applying data models to optimize workflows, resource utilization, or supply chains.

However:

Business Metamorphosis (Option B): Refers to fundamental transformational change or reinvention of a business model, not process-level optimization. This is more aligned with strategic transformation, not internal process optimization.

Therefore, the correct answer is Option B (Business Metamorphosis).

NEW QUESTION # 20

Which of the following is TRUE for "By" analysis?

- A. Both B and C
- B. The "By" analysis technique reinforces the process of "thinking like a data scientist."
- C. All of the above
- D. "By" analysis is used to create a collaborative technique to drive alignment between the business users and the data scientists to identify and brainstorm variables and metrics that might be better predictors of business performance.
- E. "By" analysis is a technique by which business subject matter experts (SMEs) and the Data Science team could collaborate to uncover new variables and metrics that might be better predictors of business performance.

Answer: C

Explanation:

"By" analysis is one of the foundational approaches recommended in the DASCA Data Scientist Knowledge Framework for structuring problem-solving in data science. The purpose of "By" analysis is to enable data scientists and business stakeholders to think beyond obvious data correlations and uncover deeper drivers of business outcomes.

At its core, the technique reinforces the discipline of thinking like a data scientist (Option A). This involves reframing business questions into analytical structures and asking "What drives this metric by which factors?" For example, customer churn might be analyzed by demographics, purchase behavior, or service usage. This structured mindset is critical for ensuring scientific rigor in business problem analysis.

In addition, "By" analysis emphasizes collaboration between Subject Matter Experts (SMEs) and Data Science teams (Option B). SMEs bring contextual domain knowledge, while data scientists bring analytical and statistical expertise. Together, they brainstorm possible explanatory variables or metrics that could become strong predictors of business performance.

Furthermore, the process provides a collaborative bridge between business and technical stakeholders (Option C). It ensures that the exploration of data is not isolated in silos but is grounded in both domain insights and advanced analytical methods. This alignment is crucial for building models that are not only technically sound but also relevant and actionable in real-world business contexts.

Since Options A, B, and C are correct and complementary, the best choice is Option E: All of the above.

Option B: Organizations already have large volumes of data but struggle to derive monetization strategies from it.
