NEW QUESTION # 43

What are two advantages of using zero-trust tags? (Choose two.)

- A. Zero-trust tags can be used to create multiple endpoint profiles which can be applied to different endpoints
- B. Zero-trust tags can be used to allow or deny access to network resources
- C. Zero-trust tags can determine the security posture of an endpoint.
- D. Zero-trust tags can be used to allow secure web gateway (SWG) access

Answer: B,C

Explanation:

Zero-trust tags are critical in implementing zero-trust network access (ZTNA) policies. Here are the two key advantages of using zero-trust tags:

Access Control (Allow or Deny):

Zero-trust tags can be used to define policies that either allow or deny access to specific network resources based on the tag associated with the user or device. This granular control ensures that only authorized users or devices with the appropriate tags can access sensitive resources, thereby enhancing security.

Determining Security Posture:

Zero-trust tags can be utilized to assess and determine the security posture of an endpoint.

Based on the assigned tags, FortiSASE can evaluate the device's compliance with security policies, such as antivirus status, patch levels, and configuration settings. Devices that do not meet the required security posture can be restricted from accessing the network or given limited access.

NEW QUESTION # 44

An organization needs to resolve internal hostnames using its internal rather than public DNS servers for remotely connected endpoints. Which two components must be configured on FortiSASE to achieve this? (Choose two.)

- A. Split DNS rules
- B. DNS filter
- C. Split tunnelling destinations
- D. SSL deep inspection

Answer: A,D

Explanation:

To resolve internal hostnames using internal DNS servers for remotely connected endpoints, the following two components must be configured on FortiSASE:

Split DNS Rules: Split DNS allows the configuration of specific DNS queries to be directed to internal DNS servers instead of public DNS servers. This ensures that internal hostnames are resolved using the organization's internal DNS infrastructure, maintaining privacy and accuracy for internal network resources.

Split Tunneling Destinations: Split tunneling allows specific traffic (such as DNS queries for internal domains) to be routed through the VPN tunnel while other traffic is sent directly to the internet. By configuring split tunneling destinations, you can ensure that DNS queries for internal hostnames are directed through the VPN to the internal DNS servers.
