NEW QUESTION # 60

What could be the reason for different combinations of components in a multiple bill of material (BOM)?

Note: There are 2 correct answers to this question.

- A. Manufacturing date
- B. BOM header status
- C. BOM component status
- D. Lot size

Answer: A,D

Explanation:

In SAP S/4HANA, a "multiple BOM" refers to alternative BOMs (transaction CS01, field: Alternative) for the same material, allowing different component combinations. Reasons for these variations include:

* Manufacturing date(A): Alternative BOMs can have different validity periods (Valid From/To dates in CS01 header). For example, a new BOM might replace an old one due to design changes effective from a specific date, resulting in different components based on when production occurs (checked in MRP or CO01).

* Lot size(D): Each alternative BOM can specify a lot size range (CS01, header data, field: Lot Size From /To). Different component combinations might be optimal for small versus large production runs (e.g., bulk packaging for larger lots), leading to distinct BOMs tied to quantity.

BOM header status(B) (e.g., Active/Inactive) controls usability but doesn't define component combinations- it's a single status per BOM. BOM component status(C) isn't a standard field-component relevance is managed via item category or deletion flags, not status, and doesn't explain multiple BOMs. This is per SAP's multiple BOM functionality.

NEW QUESTION # 61

What information do you have to maintain to define the relationship between supply source and source in the Kanban process?

NEW QUESTION # 62

How can you support a GMP (Good Manufacturing Practice)-compliant production process?

Note: There are 3 correct answers to this question.

- A. Approved resources
- B. Batch record
- C. GMP-compliant flag
- D. Recipe approval
- E. Digital signature

Answer: B,D,E

Explanation:

To support a GMP-compliant production process, you can use the following features in SAP S/4HANA:

Digital signature: This allows you to electronically sign documents and transactions that are relevant for GMP compliance, such as production orders, process orders, batch records, and quality inspections. Digital signatures ensure the authenticity, integrity, and non-repudiation of the documents and transactions¹².

Batch record: This is a document that records the entire production process of a batch, including the materials, resources, operations, quality data, and signatures involved. Batch records provide traceability and documentation for GMP compliance³.

Recipe approval: This is a process that ensures that only approved recipes can be used for production. Recipes are approved by authorized users who sign them digitally. Recipe approval prevents unauthorized changes and ensures consistency and quality of the products.
