NCP-OUSD study materials will improve the ability to accurately forecast the topic and proposition trend this year.

NVIDIA-Certified Professional: OpenUSD Development (NCP-OUSD) Sample Questions (Q60-Q65):

NEW QUESTION # 60

What naming convention might indicate a public prim?

- A. lower_case
- B. Capitalized names
- C. UPPERCASE
- D. Names with underscores

Answer: B

Explanation:

Capitalized prim names often indicate public-facing elements, while underscores can signal internal use.

NEW QUESTION # 61

Which of these data is lost when flattening a stage?

- A. variant sets
- B. prim metadata
- C. class prims
- D. scenegraph instancing

Answer: A

Explanation:

Flattening a stage resolves the composed result into a single merged layer, baking the effects of composition into authored scene description. The critical loss here is variant-set structure . OpenUSD's UsdStage::

Flatten() documentation states that flattening removes most composition metadata and that "all VariantSets are removed and only the currently selected variants will be present in the resulting layer." This means the flattened output preserves the currently selected representation, but the ability to switch among alternate variants is lost.

Option C is therefore correct. Option A is not the best answer because flattening authors resolved values and can preserve relevant composed metadata, although composition metadata is removed. Option B is incorrect because modern OpenUSD flattening preserves native scenegraph instancing by flattening prototypes and adding internal references from instances to their corresponding prototypes. Option D is incorrect because class prims still exist after flattening, although inherit arcs are removed and inherited data is copied onto consuming prims. This aligns with Composition # Flattening, Variant Sets, Composition Metadata, Inherits, and Scenegraph Instancing .

NEW QUESTION # 62

What kind annotation is used to mark important parts of a component that are not themselves separate components?

- A. Payload
- B. Subcomponent
- C. Assembly
- D. Group

Answer: B

Explanation:

Subcomponents mark parts like doors or windows inside a component asset, outside the main model hierarchy.

NEW QUESTION # 63

Why is it useful to separate shading and geometry into different workstreams even for a single artist?

- A. Because shading layers cannot be referenced
- B. Because USD forbids combining them
- C. Because materials are always heavier than geometry
- D. Because different DCC tools might be used for each

Answer: D

Explanation:

Even a single user might use different DCC tools for modeling and surfacing, so separating them simplifies integration.

NEW QUESTION # 64

Why should custom internal taxonomies rarely be exposed directly as kinds?

- A. Because custom kinds are always ignored
- B. Because sublayers override them automatically

- C. Because kinds cannot be loaded in usdview
- D. Because model hierarchy rules are strict and core to composition

Answer: D

Explanation:

Model hierarchy rules are fundamental to USD composition, and mixing internal taxonomies can create invalid hierarchies.
