CompTIA DataSys+ Certification Exam Sample Questions (Q31-Q36):

NEW QUESTION # 31
A database administrator would like to create a table named XYZ. Which of the following queries should the database administrator use to create the table?

- A. ▫
- B. ▫
- C. ▫
- D. ▫

Answer: C

Explanation:
The query that the administrator should use to create the table is option B. This query uses the CREATE TABLE statement to define a new table named XYZ with three columns: ID, Name, and Age. Each column has a data type and a constraint, such as NOT NULL, PRIMARY KEY, or CHECK. The other options either have syntax errors, use incorrect keywords, or do not specify the table name or columns correctly.

NEW QUESTION # 32
A database administrator is conducting a stress test and providing feedback to a team that is developing an application that uses the Entity Framework. Which of the following explains the approach the administrator should use when conducting the stress test?

- A. Capture business logic, check the performance of codes, and report findings.
- B. Write queries directly into the database and report findings.
- C. Check the clustered and non-clustered indexes, and report findings.
- D. Review application tables and columns, and report findings.

Answer: A

Explanation:

The approach that the administrator should use when conducting the stress test is to capture business logic, check the performance of codes, and report findings. This will help the administrator to evaluate how well the application handles high volumes of data and transactions, identify any bottlenecks or errors in the code, and provide feedback to the development team on how to improve the application's efficiency and reliability. The other options are either too narrow or too broad in scope, and do not address the specific needs of an application that uses the Entity Framework.

NEW QUESTION # 33

Gary is logging into a system and is providing his fingerprint to gain access. What step of the IAM process is he performing?

- A. Accounting
- B. Identification
- C. Authentication
- D. Authorization

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 34

Which of the following constraints is used to enforce referential integrity?

- A. Foreign key
- B. Unique key
- C. Primary key
- D. Surrogate key

Answer: A

Explanation:

The constraint that is used to enforce referential integrity is foreign key. A foreign key is a column or a set of columns in a table that references the primary key of another table. A primary key is a column or a set of columns in a table that uniquely identifies each row in the table. Referential integrity is a rule that ensures that the values in the foreign key column match the values in the primary key column of the reference table. Referential integrity helps maintain the consistency and accuracy of the data across related tables. The other options are either different types of constraints or not related to referential integrity at all. For example, a surrogate key is a column that is artificially generated to serve as a primary key, such as an auto-increment number or a GUID (Globally Unique Identifier); a unique key is a column or a set of columns in a table that uniquely identifies each row in the table, but it can have null values unlike a primary key; there is no such constraint as TID.

NEW QUESTION # 35

Which of the following scripts would set the database recovery model for sys.database?

- A. ☐
- B. ☐
- C. ☐
- D. ☐

Answer: D

Explanation:

The script that would set the database recovery model for sys.database is option A. This script uses the ALTER DATABASE statement to modify the recovery model of the sys.database to full with no wait. The other options either have syntax errors, use incorrect keywords, or do not specify the recovery model correctly. Reference: CompTIA DataSys+ Course Outline, Domain 3.0 Database Management and Maintenance, Objective 3.1 Given a scenario, perform common database maintenance tasks.
