CWNP Certified Wireless Analysis Professional Sample Questions (Q28-Q33):

NEW QUESTION # 28

The network administrator at ABC Engineering has taken a large packet capture from one of their APs running in monitor mode. She has very little knowledge of 802.11 protocols but would like to use the capture file to evaluate the overall health and performance of their wireless network. When she asks your advice, which tool do you recommend she opens the packet capture file with?

- A. Capture visualization tool
- B. Python
- C. Spectrum analyzer
- D. WLAN scanner

Answer: A

Explanation:

A capture visualization tool is a software application that can open a packet capture file and display various graphs, charts, tables, and statistics that illustrate the characteristics and behavior of the wireless network. A capture visualization tool can help a network administrator with little knowledge of 802.11 protocols to evaluate the overall health and performance of their wireless network by providing a visual and intuitive representation of the captured data. A spectrum analyzer is a hardware device that measures the radio frequency signals in a given frequency range and displays their amplitude, frequency, and modulation. A spectrum analyzer can help identify sources of interference and noise in the wireless environment, but it cannot open a packet capture file. Python is a programming language that can be used to write scripts or applications that manipulate or analyze packet capture files, but it requires coding skills and knowledge of 802.11 protocols. A WLAN scanner is a software application that scans for available wireless networks and displays information such as SSID, BSSID, channel, signal strength, security type, and vendor. A WLAN scanner can help discover wireless networks and their basic parameters, but it cannot open a packet capture file.

NEW QUESTION # 31

You are troubleshooting VoIP WLAN issues. When performing a PING to a remote device that would be involved in a call link, you see that the time value averages 220 milliseconds.

How much extra delay beyond that recommended for VoIP links is in this link?

- A. There is 70 milliseconds more delay than recommended
- B. There is no extra delay beyond that recommended, instead there is 80 milliseconds less
- C. There is not enough information because the PING command gives round-trip-times
- D. There is 80 milliseconds more delay than recommended

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 32

You are analyzing a packet decode of a Probe Request and notice the SSID element has a length of zero. What do you conclude about the transmitting STA?

- A. The STA is discovering a list of available BSSs
- B. The STA is operating in Ad-Hoc mode
- C. The STA's WLAN adaptor is disabled
- D. The WLAN adaptor is configured in promiscuous mode

Answer: A

Explanation:

The STA is discovering a list of available BSSs by sending a Probe Request with an empty SSID element.

This is also known as a broadcast Probe Request, as it does not specify any particular SSID to probe for. Any AP that receives this Probe Request will respond with a Probe Response containing its own SSID and other information about its BSS. This way, the STA can learn about all the BSSs in its vicinity and choose which one to associate with.
