EXIN Certified Data Centre Professional (CDCP) Sample Questions (Q48-Q53):

NEW QUESTION # 48

Do I need to check the local standards if I already comply to international standards?

- A. Data centres only need to comply to international standards since they are connected to a worldwide international network infrastructure.
- B. Local standards do not to be checked as some countries have too many local standards, which will slow down the data centre construction.
- C. Compliance to only international standards is good enough as most local standards are derived from international standards.
- D. You need to check the local standards to ensure compliance to these standards.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Data centre design and infrastructure standards can vary from country to country, depending on the local regulations, codes, and practices. Therefore, it is important to check the local standards before designing, building, or operating a data centre in a specific location. Compliance to only international standards may not be sufficient or adequate to meet the local requirements, which could result in legal, financial, or operational risks. For example, some countries may have stricter fire safety, environmental, or energy efficiency standards than the international ones. Some countries may also have different electrical standards, such as voltage, frequency, or plug types. By checking the local standards, you can ensure that your data centre is compliant, safe, and efficient in the local context.

NEW QUESTION # 49

Which type of Humidifier rapidly vibrates water to create a fog or mist?

- A. Infrared Humidifier
- B. Water Canister Humidifier
- C. Steam Canister Humidifier
- D. Ultrasonic Humidifier

Answer: D

Explanation:

An ultrasonic humidifier is a type of cool mist humidifier that uses a metallic diaphragm that vibrates at high frequencies to create water droplets that are added to the air. A fan projects these droplets into the air as mist, which then evaporates and humidifies the room. This type of humidifier rapidly vibrates the water to create a fog or mist.

NEW QUESTION # 50

is the degree to which a system or component is operational and accessibility when required for use.

- A. Reliability
- B. Scalability
- C. Availability
- D. Agility

Answer: C

Explanation:

Availability is the degree to which a system, product or component is operational and accessible when required for use. It is one of the attributes of reliability, which is the ability of a system or component to perform its required functions under stated conditions for a specified period of time. Availability can be calculated as the ratio of the expected value of the uptime (the time when the system is functional) to the total time (uptime plus downtime) of a system or component. Availability can also be influenced by factors such as maintainability, fault tolerance, redundancy, diagnostics, and logistics.

NEW QUESTION # 51

What should be a consideration when having casters (rollers/wheels) or feet under the rack?

- A. Casters and feet should be of a soft material, for example rubber, to avoid damage to the raised floor tile.
- B. Casters and feet should not be locked to ensure the racks are still able to be moved to another position.
- C. Skirts at the bottom of the rack to avoid air flow between the hot and cold aisles.
- D. The casters and feet should be larger to avoid a too heavy point load on the floor tile.

Answer: D

Explanation:

The casters and feet under the rack are used to support the weight of the rack and its equipment, and to allow the rack to be moved if needed. However, the casters and feet should also be designed to avoid putting too much pressure on the floor tile, especially if the data centre uses a raised floor system. A too heavy point load on the floor tile can cause the tile to crack, deform, or collapse, which can damage the rack, the equipment, and the underlying infrastructure. To prevent this, the casters and feet should be larger, so that they can distribute the weight over a larger area and reduce the point load. The casters and feet should also be compatible with the floor type and the load rating of the floor tile.

NEW QUESTION # 52

How many monitoring points should be used in Temperature Measurement?

- A. 0
- B. 1
- C. 2
- D. 3

Answer: A

Explanation:

According to the EPI Data Centre Professional (CDCP) Reference Materials, the recommended number of monitoring points for temperature measurement in a data centre is 3 per rack: one at the top, one at the middle, and one at the bottom1. This is to ensure that the temperature distribution within the rack is uniform and within the acceptable range for the equipment. The temperature sensors should be placed at the front of the rack, where the air enters the equipment, and not at the back, where the hot air exits1.
