Scrum SAFe Practitioner Exam (6.0) Sample Questions (Q205-Q210):

NEW QUESTION # 205
Turn mistakes into learning moments, create a trust-based environment, and visualize work are examples of which SAFe Core Value?

- A. Transparency

- B. Respect for People
- C. Relentless Improvement
- D. Alignment

Answer: B

Explanation:
Respect for People is one of the four SAFe Core Values. It means that the enterprise fosters a culture of mutual influence, trust, empowerment, and collaboration among all the people involved in delivering value, including customers, employees, partners, and suppliers. Respect for People also implies that the enterprise values diversity, inclusion, and psychological safety, and that it treats people as the most important asset. Respect for People supports the following practices in SAFe1:
* Turn mistakes into learning moments. Mistakes are inevitable in complex and uncertain environments, and they provide opportunities for learning and improvement. Instead of blaming or punishing people for making mistakes, the enterprise encourages them to share their learnings, experiment with new ideas, and apply the Plan-Do-Check-Adjust (PDCA) cycle.
* Create a trust-based environment. Trust is the foundation of effective collaboration and high performance. The enterprise builds trust by being transparent, honest, supportive, and accountable. It also empowers people to make decisions, take ownership, and self-organize around value delivery.
* Visualize work. Visualization helps people see the flow of value, identify bottlenecks, dependencies, and waste, and collaborate on solutions. The enterprise uses various tools and techniques to visualize work, such as Kanban boards, Cumulative Flow Diagrams, Program Boards, and Value Stream Maps. NEW QUESTION # 206
James is a Product Owner. It is day seven of the Iteration and his team tells him that they may miss their Iteration commitment. What should James do?

- A. Agree to add a person from the System Team to complete the work
- B. Ensure the Iteration backlog is accurately prioritized
- C. Support adding an Innovation and Planning Iteration directly after the current Iteration
- D. Support splitting a Story into a coding story and a testing story, and then moving the testing story into the next Iteration

Answer: B

Explanation:
= As a Product Owner, James is responsible for managing the Iteration backlog and ensuring that the most valuable and feasible work items are delivered by the team1. If the team tells him that they may miss their Iteration commitment, James should collaborate with them to review and reprioritize the backlog, and identify the minimum viable increment that can be completed within the Iteration timebox2. James should not support adding an Innovation and Planning Iteration, as this would disrupt the cadence and synchronization of the Agile Release Train3. James should not agree to add a person from the System Team, as this would violate the team autonomy and self-organization principles4. James should not support splitting a Story into a coding story and a testing story, as this would create technical debt and compromise the quality and value of the deliverable5. NEW QUESTION # 207
Which statement is true about Iteration goals?

- A. They align the team to a common Vision of work in the Iteration
- B. They verify that teams are working at their full capacity
- C. They are used to track scope changes over time
- D. They are used to measure business value achieved for each Iteration

Answer: A

Explanation:
Iteration goals are short, specific, and measurable statements that describe what the Agile team intends to accomplish in an Iteration. They are derived from the team backlog, the PI objectives, and the team vision.
Iteration goals help to align the team to a common vision of work in the Iteration, and provide clarity, focus, and motivation. Iteration goals also enable the team to communicate their progress and dependencies to other teams and stakeholders, and to demonstrate value delivery in the system demo. NEW QUESTION # 208
What approach does Extreme Programming recommend for design?

- A. simple design
- B. no upfront design
- C. complex design
- D. XP is not concern with design

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 209
What is one component of the Continuous Delivery Pipeline?

- A. Continuous Exploration
- B. Continuous Planning
- C. Continuous Cadence
- D. Continuous Improvement

Answer: A

Explanation:
Continuous Exploration (CE) is one of the four aspects of the Continuous Delivery Pipeline (CDP), along with Continuous Integration (CI), Continuous Deployment (CD), and Release on Demand1. CE focuses on creating alignment on what needs to be built by applying design thinking and Lean startup principles2. CE involves generating and validating hypotheses, defining a Minimum Viable Product (MVP), and developing a vision, roadmap, and features for the solution2. CE enables the enterprise to understand the market problem or customer need and the solution required to meet that need2. References: Continuous Delivery Pipeline, Continuous Exploration
