The number of items, though, differs based on the way the exam is delivered. Therefore, if the candidates take a computer-delivered test, they will have to solve 180 questions. This type of exam is delivered in the English language only. Plus, out of the total number of questions, only 165 are scored. The remaining ones are unscored queries and they are used for statistical purposes. The total time allotted for the candidates will be 4 hours and 18 minutes. If the examinees want to take this test with paper and pencil, then they will have to solve 165 inquiries only. Still, the type of questions remains multiple-choice. As for the allotted time, the candidates will have only four hours to answer as many questions as possible. Notably, this type of validation is delivered in both English and Mandarin. Another important aspect to mention is that all exams are open books. This means that the examinees can bring and use any type of materials they want.

ASQ Certified Manager of Quality/Organizational Excellence Exam Sample Questions (Q297-Q302):

NEW QUESTION # 297

One method to monitor performance and determine actions to satisfy customers is the use of balanced scorecards. While there are many perspectives to consider in a scorecard, what is a good set to start with?

- A. Mission, vision, values, business strategy
- B. Financial targets, customer goals, competitor strengths, supplier performance
- C. Financial target, customer goals, internal activities, learning and growth of organization
- D. Human resources, information systems, production, supplier

Answer: C

Explanation:

The balanced scorecard is a strategic management tool that views the organization from different perspectives to continuously improve strategic performance and results. The good set to start with typically includes:

* Financial: The perspective of your shareholders.

* Customer: What your customers experience and perceive.

* Business process: The key processes you use to meet and exceed customer and shareholder requirements.

* Learning and growth: How you foster ongoing change and continuous improvement.

For each of these perspectives, the balanced scorecard prompts you to develop metrics, set performance targets, and collect and analyze data, thus offering an efficient mechanism for reviewing strategy implementation based on measurement 1.

NEW QUESTION # 301

The most important criteria in the selection of an internal quality auditor is whether that person is

- A. independent from the functional area being audited
- B. experienced as a quality- auditor
- C. responsible for a functional area that is similar to the one being audited
- D. experienced in the functional area being audited

Answer: A

Explanation:

When selecting an internal quality auditor, it is crucial that the individual is independent from the functional area being audited. Independence ensures that the auditor can objectively assess processes, procedures, and compliance without any bias or conflict of interest. An auditor who is part of the same functional area may be influenced by personal relationships, organizational politics, or familiarity with the processes, which could compromise the integrity of the audit. Therefore, independence is a fundamental criterion for effective internal auditing. It allows the auditor to provide unbiased assessments and recommendations for improvement.
