Archer Certified Administrator-Expert Sample Questions (Q62-Q67):

NEW QUESTION # 62

What happens when an administrator selects to cascade private field permissions for a group?

- A. Only members of the selected group would have access to the field; members of any child groups would NOT have access to the field.
- B. Members of the selected group would NOT have access to the field; members of child groups would have access to the field.
- C. Only members of the selected group and its child groups would have access to the field.
- D. Members of the selected group and members of its child groups would have access to the field.

Answer: D

Explanation:

In Archer, Private Fields are a high-security feature where access is restricted to specific Users or Groups, regardless of their Access Role permissions. When an administrator manages these permissions, the concept of Cascading is vital for hierarchy management.

As taught in Archer Administration II , if you grant a parent group access to a private field and select the "Cascade" option, Archer automatically extends those permissions to every child group within that hierarchy.

This follows the standard inheritance model used throughout the platform's security architecture. Without cascading (Option C), only the direct members of the parent group would see the field data, and administrators would have to manually add every subgroup individually. Selecting cascade ensures that as the organization grows and new subgroups are added under the parent, those new members will automatically inherit the necessary access to view or edit the protected field.

NEW QUESTION # 63

Which users are capable of performing data imports?

- A. Members of the Data Import group
- B. Any user with proper access role permissions
- C. Only System Administrators
- D. Only Report Administrators

Answer: B

Explanation:

In Archer, the ability to perform a data import is governed by Access Roles , not strictly by high-level system administrative accounts. Under the "Rights" tab of an Access Role configuration, there is a specific permission labeled "Data Import." According to the Archer Administration II curriculum, any user assigned to a role with this right enabled-and who also possesses "Create" or "Update" permissions for the target application-can utilize the Data Import tool.

While a System Administrator (Option A) inherently has these rights, the platform is designed for delegated administration.

Therefore, a business user or a "Power User" can be granted the specific ability to import data without having full system-wide control. Options B and C are incorrect because "Report Administrators" focus on dashboard and report metadata, and while an administrator might create a custom group named

"Data Import," no such hard-coded group exists by default in the Archer out-of-the-box security model. The granularity of Archer's security ensures that data integrity is maintained by linking the import capability directly to the user's functional role and application-level permissions.

NEW QUESTION # 64

Which of the following can Data Imports populate data in?

- A. Applications and Sub-Forms
- B. Applications, Sub-Forms and Questionnaires
- C. Applications and Questionnaires
- D. Questionnaires and Sub-Forms

Answer: A

Explanation:

The manual Data Import tool has specific structural limitations compared to the more robust Data Feed Manager. As taught in Archer Administration II , Data Imports are designed to handle standard Applications and their associated Sub-Forms .

When importing into an application that contains a sub-form, the administrator can map source columns to the sub-form fields to create multiple sub-form line items for a single parent record. However, Questionnaires (Option A, B, and D) cannot be populated via the standard Data Import tool. Questionnaires utilize a unique "Target/Assessment" architecture that requires either manual launching via a Campaign or the use of the Data Feed Manager with a specialized "Questionnaire" transporter. Because the Data Import tool lacks the ability to handle the complex relationship between the Question Library, the Questionnaire Template, and the Target record, it is restricted to standard application and sub-form data ingestion.

NEW QUESTION # 65

What action should never be completed using the Advanced Workflow Job Troubleshooting tool?

- A. Manually moving a record to the next node.
- B. Editing the Advanced Workflow.

- C. Canceling a job.
- D. Restarting a job.

Answer: B

Explanation:

The Advanced Workflow Job Troubleshooting tool is a runtime utility designed to manage individual "instances" of records currently enrolled in a workflow. It is used to fix records that are stuck due to errors.

According to the Advanced Workflow Beyond the Basics guide, this tool is purely for operational maintenance (Cancel, Reset, Restart, or "Force" movement).

Editing the Advanced Workflow structure (changing the flowchart, adding nodes, or modifying logic) cannot be done within the Troubleshooting tool. Workflow design changes must be made in the Application Builder under the Workflow tab. Attempting to "fix" a logic error by changing the design is a development task, whereas the Troubleshooting tool is an administrative task for existing data. Furthermore, editing a workflow requires saving a new version and potentially migrating active jobs, a process entirely separate from the record-level "Reset/Cancel" functions found in the Job Troubleshooting interface.

NEW QUESTION # 66

For multi-host environments, which statement of the following is TRUE regarding the set up of the servers?

- A. File share can only be accessed by the web server.
- B. All servers should be on the same network.
- C. A load balancer is not needed if there are more than one web server.
- D. All Archer components exist on one server.

Answer: B

Explanation:

In a Multi-Host (Distributed) Environment, Archer components (Web, Application, and Database tiers) are spread across multiple physical or virtual machines to ensure high availability and scalability. According to the Archer Installation and Troubleshooting guides within the Administration II curriculum, it is a technical requirement that all servers within the Archer instance be on the same network or have high-speed, low-latency connectivity between them. This is because the Archer Control Panel (ACP) and the various services (Async, Indexing, Queuing) must communicate constantly to synchronize metadata and process jobs.

Option A is incorrect because the File Store must be accessible by both the Web and Services servers to handle attachments.

Option B describes a "Single-Host" setup, not a multi-host one. Option C is false because if you have multiple Web Servers, a Load Balancer is mandatory to distribute user traffic and provide failover. Without being on the same network/segment, the latency would cause the Archer Services to "time out," leading to job engine failures and significant performance degradation across the platform.
